

Fundamentals of the Biosphere

Reincarnation

Introduction

Phantoms and doppelgangers, complete memory loss and unexpectedly discovered new knowledge about events in which a person had not participated before, memories of a past life and knowledge of foreign languages from the cradle - all this is only a small part of what attracts the attention of various kinds of scammers, primarily from the media. These and similar cases, recorded by witnesses, captured on photo and video materials, legally confirmed, are a means of existence for all those who "warm their hands" on ignorance.

The Academy of Sciences does not interfere in "miraculous" transformations, and this only benefits all healers, sorcerers of black and white magic and other crooks. Let's introduce a glossary (terms and explanations) (the basic constant in modern science is horsepower, therefore horsepower)

Number	Name - Variation	Basis – Horse Literacy	Non-scientific point of view
1	Atmosphere	A mixture of accidentally formed gases	Strictly organized grid series structure
2	Earth	Formed from dust	Exists thanks to the Control System (CS), located at a certain depth
3	Field	The number of titles is unlimited. From collective farms to astral fields.	Fields as physical structures - 3, Conventionally, they can be called electric, magnetic, gravitational, they differ in charge frequencies and charge properties (charge octaves 4 - 512 in DI structures and 16-128 in k structures)
4	Matter	The whole world, both on Earth and in Space, consists of Boron atoms	If the charge octave is less than 66, a rigid structure of the proton atom (matter) is formed

5	Spirit	The spirit is usually holy, exists separately from matter	If the charge octave is more than 64 (up to 512), a non-inertial mass is formed, quantized by purpose and properties
6	Moon	A piece of meteorite captured by the Earth	Earth's External Life Support System, a program generator for the biosphere
7	Human Being	Descended from a monkey	A change in the sperm octave in the appropriate environment forms a human (humanoid monkey)
8	Brain	Everything under the cranial bone	A person has a part of the operative brain and a small part of long-term memory

Minor differences between the two points of view

Number	Official Science	Non-scientific point of view
1	The solar system was formed after the explosion, there is a Hubble sphere	The solar system is artificial, Space has never exploded, there is no Hubble sphere
2	A living cell turned out by chance from the remains of dust, not suitable for the formation of the Earth's surface	A living cell is the highest achievement of the Cosmic Mind, combines the interaction of octaves from 12 to 4,096
3	The remnants of gases randomly formed the atmosphere	The atmosphere is a layered lattice structure (*)
4	There is no difference between the brain of a mouse (on which medical drugs used by humans are tested) and the human brain	The human brain and any humanoid brain are not compatible
5	UFOs are accidental appearances of aliens, and everyone is busy studying them. Soon their secret will be revealed, and their weapons will become the property of the Earth.	All UFOs on Earth are of terrestrial origin. This is a piece of equipment for monitoring the state of the external environment (such as a probe). There are UFOs on the Moon
6	The evolution of matter Solid liquid gas plasma (unorganized)	Non-inertial mass (highly organized plasma, ranked by octaves) Inertial mass (gas liquid solid)

(*) On 6 July, 2003, the formation of the shared memory grid was completed. The structure of the lattice is connected dodecahedra, an icosahedron is inscribed in each dodecahedron (the edges of the shapes and connecting pyramids are the same). The number of such nested structures = 44,

The dimensions and methods of connection are given in the works of the author.

The knowledge systems of "horse literacy" will be deleted along with their carriers. The grid of shared memory will contain only the information that is necessary for the life support of biostructures. In addition, a powerful grid of control structures has been created. The unintended actions of biostructures will be destroyed along with their carriers (example - turning of rivers, creation of atomic weapons without knowledge of the physics of the process). The list can be continued, but in the works of the author there is already a fully described non-scientific point of view.

The concept of non-scientific perception

- The Earth is controlled by a Control System located below the surface of the Earth;
- The management system is a complex hierarchical system;
- There are more than 2,000 control systems on Earth;
- The basic brain of each individual is stored in the archive of the Control System (point 4 on the atlas);
- at each clock interval, the individual's brain is monitored and information is recorded;
- The control system uses 7 types of time, one of which is (60*60*24) is the stroke of the lower part of the lattice (see calculations);
- The Control System uses a musical series to transfer information, and the resonant contours of the spine are receivers of information;
- the Control System uses a different musical sequence to control the brain; - a series for brain control: DO RE MI FA SOL LA SI NA, code LALALA - call signs;
- appearance is a shirt, and the brain transfer is done in a shirt that is compatible in frequency balance with the brain being transferred;
- When the brain is transferred, the information in the archive may be fully or partially preserved, so the individual does things that were previously unavailable to him;
- the brain to be replaced may be preserved but, as a rule, it is atomized, with the ionic structure (and DNA too) remaining old (sedimentary structures of the old brain). The new brain does not form DNA, so it is always possible to detect a substitution (e.g. the case of Anastasia - Anastasia's brain was moved entirely into a different shirt, and only DNA analysis indicated a mismatch).

When replacing the brain, the Control System assumes that the new brain in the archive is more perfect than the one being replaced, but this is not always the case - recently the reverse process has been observed. The old brain cannot be replaced if some control points are missing or cannot be replaced (genotype mismatch, diseases such as AIDS or tuberculosis, a narrow range of lung memory, excess of the potential level of radioactive frequencies, etc.).

An important aspect is the way the structure is transformed and resized. A small example. It is known that an erythrocyte has a diameter of 7-9 microns, but more than 90% of human blood vessels have a diameter of about 1 micron.

Question: how is the red blood cell placed there?

Answer: there is no red blood cell in the blood, it is formed outside the Control System (or brain) as a sedimentary structure with the loss of the state of an octave (when the octave decreases by 2 times, the total size increases by 1.284 times).

Similarly - the birth of a child. The sperm has an ionic structure and a brain in the 96th octave (smaller than the size of an atom). Having got into the "sandbox", that is, into the structure in which maximum scattering occurs, the sperm quickly grows (losing brain octaves in the process). Upon reaching the equilibrium state (octave 71.225625), a signal is sent, and childbirth occurs.

An important factor follows from this - the new brain is fed in a higher octave, and the functions of the old brain can only be partially disrupted.

Modern science does not even suspect the existence of a non-inertial mass (the structure of octaves greater than 64, united by the 96th octave), although ball lightning and its action have been known for a long time. With octaves greater than 64, we have 8 different atomic structures (in the author's works they are given conventional names - neutron and antineutron, neutrino and antineutrino, etc.). Each of these structures has a range of existence (charge). When losing charge, the potential of a lower octave increases. Example: when converting the power of an octave of 65.5 at 32.125225, we get a powerful lightning discharge (commensurate with the power output of a large hydroelectric power plant for hundreds of years), although the initial state cannot be seen.

Considering (in addition to official science) the presence of various "divine" phenomena, as well as the advertised astral, mental and other fields (recently the fashionable field is torsion), let's pay attention to the increase in the number of perpetual motion machines, or at least the desire to create them. More than 99% of such works are obvious stupidity even from the point of view of official science, but if in some cases a non-inertial mass is present in the technical solution, conventional means and devices cannot solve the problem, especially since the Boron atom does not change dimensions, and the periodic table does not contain a non-inertial mass.

Is the existence of a perpetual motion machine possible? If we take a period of time of 100 years, then it is possible - by scattering high octaves, ion masses can receive "recharge" from nowhere, but this is in the case of the presence, or combination, of inertial and non-inertial mass. An example of such a perpetual motion machine is a person whose brain is in a non-inertial structure. What happens if someone decides to visit Pluto on a modern spaceship? As we move, there will be a scattering of high octaves (and this is the brain), so when passing Mars, we will have the brain of a pithecanthropus, and at the final point - a pile of sand. All objects that move in Space have a gravitomagnetic-electric generator with them, which supports the existence of movable matrices at all frequencies.

So, where do the science crooks come from, and what do they use.

First of all, from the walls of science itself. The use of "Horse literacy" does not allow us to recognize the meaning of physical phenomena. All existing instrumentation is based on the properties of the human eye (phase, charge slip angle, upper octave, etc., cannot be higher). The lack of an instrument base does not allow official science to recognize or reject new physical properties of the material world (we will not touch on the "Divine World" here).

The lack of knowledge about the world around us and the way it exists leads to closure around the pyramid of knowledge, which has been built for more than 500 years.

Actually, the presence of such a science has led to the existence of more than 180 Academies in Russia at the present time, each of which uses the same level of knowledge and has nothing to do with science. Will this situation be changed? Yes, it will. At the end of the Main Program, the Control System will simply erase everything unnecessary and give the information that will not allow the "king of nature" to interfere with the control system, including the formation of new atmospheric grids.

But back to the problem of reincarnation. The concept of "karma" has been introduced in shamanic circles. It is assumed that this is a record of all deeds and promising "creative" successes. A lot has been written about karma. You can add the following:

Karma is the property of the brain neutrino shell to preserve all properties when changing the octave from 73.450450 to 61.375375 with a carrier octave of 49.5 (bone structure). It takes about 1,200 - 2,400 years, so when replacing the brain, the neutrino brain structure is primarily controlled.

In the case of the disappearance of the carrier frequency, karma disappears within a fraction of a second, and all that remains of the person is a small pile of wet sand.

Currently, the world is divided into 2 camps - yogis and goyim (yogi - management, or those individuals whose karma is supported by the Earth's Control System, 12% of them; goyim - working material for the production of experiments). Similarly - BAR - SLAVE. The correctness of the reincarnation process is checked on Goyim, and it is performed on yogis.

However, there are exceptions. These exceptions are well described in history. This applies to Jews. There is no such nation. This was described by N. Morozov in the monograph "Christ". There were tribes of Jews. The story is based on fairy tales, and all the "antiquities" were written in the Middle Ages, from the beginning of the 500-year program. According to N. Morozov, the word "Jew" is EBR (migrant). That is, the one who had his brain replaced (author's note). They were supposed to have been "resettled" or "kicked out of Egypt." The first experiments on changing brain structures were carried out in Asia Minor.

When a new brain is transferred, the old brain is eliminated, and if the new one cannot pass the test and cannot be installed. In this case, the control over the actions of the brain is violated, and such a brain must be destroyed. The Control System introduced the name "Jew" for such people - a Jew (or yogi) without a brain. This has nothing to do with Jews anymore. The slogan "Beat the Jews, save Russia" refers specifically to this phenomenon. To create a public mood, "black hundreds", stormtroopers, "Memory" societies and so on are being created.

For the "Jews", the System establishes a temporary backup (the total lifetime is 54 years) and makes them ordinary biorobots with specified functions. If in the period 1933-1945 the total number of biorobots was 6,600,000 (almost all were destroyed), now they are already more than 33% of the population, therefore there is a danger of a new (already nuclear) war. At the end of karma, robots jump out of windows, commit accidents, take up arms, etc. These individuals are especially dangerous in the army. Modern science does not have the way and means to detect and neutralize robots. The first report on the appearance of robots in Russia was in 1472 ("The appearance of the first Jews in Russia"), that is, since the beginning of the Program for installing a new brain, it has not been suitable for everyone. If karma is normal, the control system 100% confirms the possibility of reincarnation, then it is performed once every 12 years for all yogis (or in exceptional cases - by combining several clock intervals and the possibility of replacement, for example, Anastasia). Let's hope that the Control System will find another way (other than war) to remove robots and the reasons for their formation.

Sleep as Karma control

Sleep and dreams, interpretations and dream guides are the basis of the work of almost all practitioners of shamanism. It is known that there are many types of dreams - these are colored dreams, and dreams without dreams, instant dreams (a person sleeps for several minutes, gets a good night's sleep and at the same time sees a dream that lasted several hours). During sleep, a person can travel, do very specific things, be in places that are inaccessible, etc. For the first time, the idea of sleep as a means of control was expressed by Freud.

There is nothing accidental on Earth, all living beings are bio-sensors, and if the frequency balance changes (according to the Program), then unnecessary bio-sensors disappear and new ones appear, while it must be borne in mind, according to the Program, the frequency balance only grows (the octave increases), therefore large bio-sensors gradually disappear and smaller ones appear. The Control System monitors the person especially carefully. Mutations are unacceptable, and once per clock interval, a short-term removal of a part of the brain is performed (according to the schedule) for control purposes. At the same time, a test is run for the withdrawn part of the brain and a corrective effect is formed based on the test results, after which the withdrawn part of the brain is returned. If the correction is insufficient for the entire brain, the carrier frequency is removed or karma is reduced.

There are 12 interconnected Control Systems and 21 Control Systems on Earth.

Example: The control system for England is located in Greenland. The removal of a part of the brain is performed according to the commands of the Moon. In the fig. the memory library is conventionally shown. Testing is performed at high octaves. There is a different time (a 144-fold reduction in time), but if this time is not enough for a full test, the test breaks off and a part of the brain (not complete) returns back. In the next test, this part of the brain is placed one step lower. Address communication allows you to accurately return the brain to where it was taken from for testing, but if there were changes in the atmosphere at that time, the address can be changed and, for example, the brain of a woman returns to a man and vice versa.

Hence the increase in the number of homosexuals and lesbians. The test is a kind of movie, each frame of which checks every cell of the brain matrix. The verification trace is partially preserved. Yes, it is possible to determine a person's disease or general condition by sleep. Interpretation of dreams has nothing to do with this process. The loss of an address is a tragedy for the Control System, because not only the control system is violated, but also the meaning. When the loss of an address is detected, the Control System liquidates the gene pool at the new address, and this person becomes a ballast for society. All so-called "minorities are a marriage at work".

Идеально/Perfect, Сбои/Failures, Связи/Communications
 Распределитель/Distributor, Возврат по завершении такта/Return
 At end of cycle, Заболевания/Diseases

The Control Systems are under ideal conditions, and the system is gradually destroying their brains. The control points of the brain matrix on all octaves are given in a separate work. Here we note that only the control of the functioning of the pancreas is 8192 points in the brain matrix. All medications used by humans either detach the brain from the ion structures (shirts), or adjust the shirt at the direction of the returned part of the brain. There are no and cannot be medical drugs that affect the human brain. Acupuncture (gold and silver needles are usually used) either add or remove potentials from high-frequency cell structures, this is a kind of antenna, however, the needle parameters must exactly correspond to the octave of the variable potential. An "accidental" needle will only do harm.

Language as a means of communication

Unlike humanoids, humans can talk. A detailed analysis of sound forms is given in N. Morozov's monograph "Christ", volume 3. However, the reason for the formation of coherent speech is unclear to modern science.

A non-scientific point of view: every person's brain contains a "Translator", that is, a way to translate musical sequences received by the spine octaves, or stored in operational or long-term memory. There may be several such translators. Without such a translator, you can spend hundreds of years learning a language, uselessly. If there is no translator, you cannot force the brain to practice an unfamiliar language. During reincarnation, it is possible not only to transfer records of events that occurred with the transferred brain, but also to transfer the translator, which makes it easy and fast to replenish language knowledge.

During brain control the Control System checks the correctness of the translator and, if necessary, supplements (increasing the frequency potentials) the brain with "instructions" to change the ionic part (shirt). When the frequency potentials decrease, you can forget everything, lose your memory.

There is a well-known method of learning a foreign language in a dream. In fact, it is necessary to use an 8-bit musical literacy, and not 7 (12), as is now customary. In addition, recording must be performed in the appropriate octave (The maximum possible frequency of the radio equipment is 16 octaves, which is not enough to generate the potential of a command magnetic pulse).

Instead of precise "requests" to install a translator from the language, we currently have noise effects such as crowd conversation, and the Control System can only either increase the density of potentials of previously laid down capabilities, or remove them altogether (you wake up and find that you have forgotten your native language, and there is no other). With an increase in the density of potentials, there may be effects (not immediately) of language knowledge. From children's humor: "Grandma, do you have a headache? - it hurts. - So, the batteries are dead."

The Russian language was developed 257 years before the birth of A.S. Pushkin (and English too), and since that time the frequency balance of the living cell and bone resonators has been changed to new structures. These changes were made all over the Earth, but taking into account "local government structures", for example, in China, Japan, Korea.

For information, see Appendix 1. The structure of the thought process in countries using hieroglyphs differs from the generally accepted one. This structure of images, and changes in this structure that are not typical of the stereotype, would lead to the destruction of a significant part of the brain matrices.

Blood, DNA and lung memory

When a part of the brain is replaced, as a rule, a change in blood type occurs, medicine cannot explain this now. Not only the blood type changes, but also the sedimentary structure, previously unknown compounds and particles (and sizes) may appear. If there has been a change in blood type, then there will be changes in the structures of some organs. As a rule, this applies to external metabolic structures, i.e., lungs. If the Program provides for a change in the potential ratios in the atmospheric grids and (or) the introduction of a new grid, then first of all the lungs should be ready for such changes. Breathing exercises are subordinated to the brain, and the limit of breathing capacity cannot be greater than those possibilities provided by the brain (lung memory). When the "corridor" is shortened, a person suffocates. As a rule, the reduction of the corridor (and sometimes just its elimination) occurs in a dream when a part of the brain is missing. If the "gas" environment and lung memory do not match, the brain sends a signal within 4 hours, and if there is no way to correct the situation, the brain is withdrawn.

The very name of DNA (acid) suggests that it is simply a medium for the transformation of high octaves (the sperm also grows with the loss of octaves in an acidic environment). But this environment is highly organized, and with the use of modern devices, it was possible to partially detect some of its features.

There were 64 combinations of adenine, cytosine, guanine and thymine collected. However, DNA is a "conveyor belt" used by the brain to form ionic structures and organize metabolic processes. DNA is a sedimentary structure, and when the brain is replaced, it does not change, it's just that other parts will be assembled on this "conveyor". Science has determined that 20 (known) types of amino acids are formed from 64 codons. The remaining 44 are unknown. Note that these 20 amino acids are analogs of shop distributions on the "conveyor". If the "conveyor" is an "assembly shop", then there should be a "stamping shop", "painting shop", etc. It must be assumed that the unknown 44 amino acids are third-party "mafia" structures, they outgrow any organized "production".

So, what can change during reincarnation?

- Blood type.
- Lung memory.
- Metabolic processes, including coordination of movements (gait may change).
- Memory structure, for example, language skills, singing skills, etc.
- New records of information not previously inherent in the individual.

Let's add that after reincarnation, the new brain also changes the "shirt", i.e., a person can become much younger or vice versa - a 3-year-old child can turn into a very old man.

Conclusion. Reincarnation is the property of the return of the brain at the birth of a new life or the current Software replacement of the brain.

Only the Kailash Complex produces reincarnation. Only representatives of the "golden billion" are subject to reincarnation.

If, in the course of life, representatives of the "golden billion" discover that the brain does not meet the Program requirements, the brain is destroyed. In the year 2000, the 500-year Program for the formation of the "golden billion" was completed. The control before Easter showed significant differences in brain functions and Program requirements. In this regard, all functions of reincarnation were removed before the normal restoration of Software requirements. All representatives of the "golden billion" from that time on - are on a common basis, without reincarnation. The church, which was created based on information about reincarnation, is a parasitic element today, and all fairy tales about the future life are intended only for their happy existence. If earlier about 12% of the population was exposed to reincarnation, then for the next 120-140 years this value is zero.
