(series 36-369)

An idea whose time has come...

There is only one thing stronger than all the armies in the world.

This is an Idea whose time has come

It is impossible to shake a person, at the subconscious level, who is confident in his rightness. At the moment (today) I am sure that trying to convince people of something, and especially in understanding what is happening before their eyes, is not only a useful waste of time and effort, it is also harmful to their own understanding. You can't prove anything to someone who DOESN'T WANT to listen to something new and unfamiliar to them. Yet, you can't leave people without sharing the information that you have. Therefore, I decided to write and talk about the new, about understanding the new THROUGH the EXAMPLES of the OLD, which are known, which we were all taught, and we blindly believed in all this, without even asking ourselves – "... was it really so ...". This may, of course, make it difficult to grasp the big picture for those who are ready for something new, most likely though, it will be useful in their further research and reflection. I am sure of one thing – if my thoughts find a place in your heart and your understanding, then your life will change. And, if they don't, well, there is no trial. I am writing this with one goal – to expand the circle of our ideological supporters interested in New knowledge, new technologies and to present an opportunity to understand what is happening today in order to move forward.

Imagine your life on a ship. You have a lot of things to do on it: paint the cabin, catch a fish, set sails, entertainment in the evening ... Business, business, business ... your head is spinning from these affairs. But where are you going? Hardly anyone can clearly answer this question. Anyone can name their goals in life (within the boundaries of life). For some, it's power, fame and money. Others have to plant a tree, build a house and have a baby. The third have some other goals of their own. It doesn't matter who has what goals in life. It is important that they are all inside life. But what is the purpose of life itself? What is that for which you were born and what do you want to get in the end? When it is unclear what the answer is, it CONSIDERED DANGEROUS. A man has always been certain that everything in life is clear to him. He only lacks money. And if there was enough money, everything becomes absolutely clear. And then suddenly it turns out that there are questions that he has no answer for. Protecting themselves from the danger that threatens to shake the familiar world, people put labels on this issue.

They say, for example, that it has religious overtones, or that everything that is said today on all sides about partial demobilization is foolishness, obscurantism and ignorance, so the question itself is nonsensical. At best, they give meaningless answers: it makes no sense; the sense is in our position regarding this question; we should "just live," and that's the way things are, without seeing the current goals that initiated this question. I do not deny the importance of current goals. I'm just saying that their VALUE is in THE MOMENT. Because in the long run, there won't be much left of what we value so much now. Leo Tolstoy, at one time, in the "Confession," said this about it – "Not today, nor tomorrow, diseases, death will come (and has already come) to loved ones, to me, and nothing will remain but the stench and worms. My deeds, whatever they may be, will all be forgotten — sooner, later, and I will not be there. So why bother?". It is ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY to bother, so that in the future something new will come, completely different from what we value today in the material society, created by all of us, but not by our will.

It is very difficult for people today – no matter what they say. And to tell them in this everyday situation about the fact that everything that is happening is NOT a DECISION made by one (albeit collectively) person, but the development of the situation of events from 23-24 February – THROUGH IT (through them), with a completely different plan, which is beyond the competence of their understanding, of COURSE IT IS NECESSARY. But all this encounters, first of all, the problems that people suddenly encountered with the temporary, declared mobilization, both for the mobilized and for the parents and relatives of those mobilized, for whom this has exposed a lot of questions, from "...why, for what and who...?", to finding a way out of this situation, as they say - by all "available" means, up to the escape (in any form) from the country.

Studying a huge number of speeches, statements and arguments of REPRESENTATIVES of VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS about our most pressing and most monstrous problems, including all those related to partial mobilization, I CAN'T HELP but have a strange feeling that for the success of a Special Military Operation (SVO) in Ukraine, we first, or by at least along the way, as a necessary prerequisite, it is necessary to carry out its analogue in relation to many structures, let's say politically correct, of the Russian state administration, because all of today's so-called liberalism<sup>1</sup> – this is serving the interests of financial speculators against their people. Liberalism is today's expression of fascism – the triune fascism (administrative–bureaucratic, financial and national–demographic) in its full AGONIZING MANIFESTATION. Who doubts can see that not only Russian liberals support fascists with one voice, in particular, fascists in Ukraine, the finished Bandera.

<sup>1</sup> Liberalism - a bourgeois political trend of the XIX and early XX centuries, which defended the restriction of the monarchy by parliament, the expansion of electoral rights, bourgeois freedoms - speech, press, conscience. Liberalism was widespread during the struggle of the industrial bourgeoisie with the feudal nobility for power. Liberalism is coming to naught, since the bourgeoisie, facing the threat of a socialist revolution, is increasingly turning to methods of violence and terror against the working masses. The ideas of liberalism, picked up by the compromisers from the Second International, serve in their hands as a means of deceiving the masses. Liberals are always and everywhere defenders of the capitalist system. 2) Liberalism is also called a tolerant, complacent attitude towards class enemies. Lenin and Stalin have always cruelly criticized rotten liberalism as criminal complacency and soft-heartedness bordering on treason to the working class, as a lack of class vigilance to a disguised enemy.

It is the liberals who are supported by people living in Europe, America and other countries and, characteristically, by the former so-called socialist camp. Liberals, liberalism is today's embodiment of fascism of the information age. In my opinion, the time has come to purge OUR OWN Russian state administration of liberals, i.e., obvious and potential accomplices of fascism. And at least, at the first stage, teach Russian officials to use their native Russian language so that their answers are understandable to an ordinary normal person without translators like me. Because in everyday life, these translations are carried out NOT FROM the BUREAUCRATIC - to the Russian literary, but from the bureaucratic, to the RUSSIAN OBSCENE. Although I should note that in the essence of most of these answers, translations into obscene Russian correspond more than to literary Russian. This is especially true today, within the framework of understanding the ongoing Special Military Operation in Ukraine and all those world processes that are launched through the events in Ukraine, as their detonator. This can be treated in different ways, depending on the SPECIALLY CREATED barrage of information and your own ability to think. In the majority, or for most, comprehension is blunted by emotions for events that occur before their eyes and in which they become participants. Simple explanations are important to them, which can normalize their overloaded and excited psyche. In my opinion, abstruse explanations of the physics of processes occurring in reality and beyond people's participation today are certainly important, and understanding them (for those who have begun to understand them) is invaluable. But most of them need to be given (prompted) information, in their usual understanding, which can influence their behavior and encourage them to take concrete actions within the framework of the resulting processes. I would like to briefly remind the reader about the triune fascism, which all of us are facing today, and it is simply impossible not to take this into account when understanding what is going on.

The essence of all three forms of inferno<sup>2</sup>–fascism is revealed for the first time in the "Fundamentals of the Formation of Humanity" (FFH). In order not to give the impression of some "far-fetched" problems of inferno-fascism, I will give some indicative characteristics that are fully manifested today and already understood by people. All the elements of the "administrative-bureaucratic" facet, its horizontal connections and nodes of interaction in the construction of the Russian political system, are DIRECT SIGNS of parasitic violence against ordinary participants in the construction, the vast majority of whom are the indigenous peoples of the country.

<sup>2</sup> Inferno - nature is like hell, the focus of evil for thinking, feeling beings. The tendency of an unsettled society to close in on itself, when, according to the laws of evolution, the fittest begin to prosper - sycophants, opportunists, obedient lack of initiative performers, which leads to an increase in incompetence in public affairs and, ultimately, to the death of society. The only way to avoid inferno is the restructuring of society on the principles of science and the transition to a true understanding of what is happening.

Parasitic violence of a NARROW GROUP of PEOPLE of the leading brain genotype, called liberals, over the unprecedented majority of participants in the construction of the Russian political system, IS FASCISM. The "administrative-bureaucratic fascism" exercises its influence and impact on the structure through RIGID VERTICALS of state power ("executive," "legislative," "judicial"), which are constantly being modified and strengthened in their interests. The driving force of "administrative-bureaucratic fascism" is the seizure (theft) of state (people's) values for their own use. At the same time, it most actively interacts and PARTIALLY MERGES with the facet of the construction of the Russian political system, which has a special status - "financial fascism," the presence of which in the Russian political system is OBVIOUS AND PROVEN. Thus, "administrative-bureaucratic fascism" is a reinforcing component of "financial fascism" and vice versa. However, as well as the rest of the other verticals. Constructive ties forming "administrative-bureaucratic fascism" are mainly horizontal in nature, which fit into a system of "nodal interacting elements" connecting all the verticals of state power in the country. "Nodal interacting elements" are the MAIN SIGNS of "administrative-bureaucratic fascism".

It is they who carry out the manifestation of program performance states for their subsequent embodiment in the verticals of state power. "Administrative-bureaucratic fascism" operates both inside and UNDER the COVER of all three verticals of state power, and, consequently, under the cover of the Constitution, other laws and many by-laws that constantly confirm its state status. To protect itself, fascism is constantly strengthening its "law-protecting" bodies - the FSO, FSB, Ministry of Internal Affairs, etc., and also creates new forms of its protection in the form of armed units of the Ministry of Emergency Situations, the Federal Drug Control Service, the Federal Tax Service, etc., various departmental, non-departmental and private security structures, endowing them with rights and duties in their interests. By carrying out its management activities "in the shadows" (outside the law), "administrative-bureaucratic fascism" positions ITS "EXTRA-LAW," thereby generating other perverted forms of its essence - oligarchy, organized crime, raiding, police banditry, solid corruption. "Administrative-bureaucratic fascism," as it spreads to the lower levels of the construction of the political system of Russia, only develops and strengthens its violent, parasitic properties and their impact on the participants of the construction, generating in the country the energy of pain, death, hatred and destruction. Where do the "legs grow" from? The policy pursued by world capital fully corresponds to all the signs of fascism. With full responsibility, we can declare the advent of the ERA OF FINANCIAL FASCISM.

Financial fascism, through its influence of oppressive violence of power, keeps ALL FORMS of social parasitism and violence in a stable state in all countries, regardless of the type of civilization. And therefore, we are already talking about Planetary inferno-fascism. Or maybe we, in Russia, don't care about any factor-influencing manifestation of "financial fascism," which was SKILLFULLY MASTERED by a part of the governing class and turned it into a profession - and work as before, in one breath. However, it was not there. Housing and communal services are waiting at the entrance with the support of a representative of Roszdrazvnabsbytsotsstrakhoron, anxiously looking at the bored riot police and a group of sad bailiffs, buried with the decisions of either the courts or the prosecutor's offices. It seems that everything is there, everything has been organized, what is it that people don't work for, - the chamber is tormented in thought, both the upper one and all the rest attached to it, attached exactly in the required quantity, as the West recommended to the liberals, who embodied ALL THIS. But let's not forget that it was NOT THEY who embodied, rather, it was embodied THROUGH THEM.

National-demographic fascism is primarily manifested in the genocide of the indigenous peoples of Russia. In this aspect, there are a lot of parallels with those directions that N. V. Levashov also highlighted in his materials and speeches. The figures of those killed in the wars against Russia and its peoples are already in the HUNDREDS of MILLIONS. Today, it is no secret to anyone that the artificial incitement of racial and ethnic hatred occurs through bribed media and specially trained groups of provocateurs, funded by Western special services and individual organizations operating in all regions of the Russian Federation under the guise of "international humanitarian and environmental funds and programs". This is also a large-scale project to reduce the "number of people" - the International Family Planning Federation, lobbying for "sexual health" and "reproductive rights". The "reproductive right" is promoted - GIVING WOMEN the right to legally kill children - abortions. Already today, thanks to the promotion of abortion, Russia annually loses about 6 million newborns! These destructive tendencies are reinforced by the policy of compulsory vaccination and the use of genetically modified products, while the population of Russia is used as experimental material in conditions of suppressing information. The propaganda of perverted Western "values" is being carried out with might and main, instead of the normal, high moral norms inherent in our peoples since ancient times. This has been FULLY MANIFESTED recently, and especially with the beginning of a special operation in Ukraine, and partial mobilization in the country – which revealed NOT JUST this. Active falsification of history is an excellent tool for making future slaves, you just need to inspire: "... indigenous peoples have always been slaves, they were born slaves, they existed as slaves, and their share from time immemorial has been a slave. In Russia, blood flowed so much that IT WAS NECESSARY TO INVENT a Tatar-Mongol yoke.

Disastrous reforms in the field of education and the active introduction of juvenile justice, further aggravate national demographic problems, bringing them to the brink of doom and hopelessness.

Thus, throughout Russia, a group of people with a leading brain genotype, at a very recent moment in the historical development of program consciousness, brought the construction of the political system of the state into a state of GRATUITOUS VIOLENCE against indigenous peoples, plunged, by the same program consciousness, into a state of conscious emptiness, and pursued the achievement of total power in the state in order to parasitize the welfare of the population, eliminating its functional endowment, which, in fact, is observed today as the automotor activity of the Old Control System. However, the full implementation of the program of fascism, disguised in new clothes, is an irreversible destruction of the entire structure of the political system of the state, thereby plunging the state itself into a state of "inferno".

The list of deeds for all three forms of inferno-fascism could be continued, but THIS IS NOT the current essence. The point is that both for individuals and for SOCIETY AS A WHOLE, a line has been drawn, beyond which a vicious circle of inevitability and unsettlement, hopelessness and doom is drawn. Some are "allowed" to openly display violence outside the constraints of the legal field, while others are obliged to accept this disadvantaged position, sometimes with a slight bickering and a half-whispered silent reminder that there are supposedly some rights and powers in some vague legal field. Otherwise it is not allowed, in case of discontent of the disadvantaged part of society, it is infringed with even harsher violence. The violence and fear generated by money is of course different from physical violence, however, the essence of it DOES NOT change. A person is afraid of losing his job, losing any salary and grovels before the employer. A pensioner, receiving a pittance, lives in constant fear of continuously rising prices. At the same time, the management systems of this infernal society are brought to a state where any, even the most BENEVOLENT ACTIONS of corrupt and incompetent authorities, only further worsen the situation in society. A country whose leadership puts the slogan "We don't give up our own" at the forefront - no matter who understands this slogan – is doomed to serious social upheavals. I want to remind you here that Ivan the Terrible, Peter the Great, Joseph Stalin – they "surrendered" their own if these "their own" went against the interests of the Country, and the man who "did not surrender his own," even if "his own" went against the interests of the Country, was Nicholas II, who ended his days in the basement of the Ipatievsky house.

Regarding the current moment, WE, ALL, except the inveterate scoundrels, who are not so few, desperately need a Victory, a victory in this so-called "conflict". We CANNOT lose it, it must be won. I understand painfully well that the existing system will win or lose. I believe that this system should be HELPED to WIN, to help, showing delicacy towards it, even in some ways. And not to scandalize it or "whip its cheeks and show off all its dark spots", of which there are many, very many, and about which I have already partially described. If this system DOES NOT STAND UP, then all that can and should be done is to CREATE something alternative in a TIMELY manner, allowing the state and society to stand up at the moment when the system fails and begins to crack under the load. And this must be done in a timely manner, starting today – this is what my position boils down to.

In our system, as in any other systems, there are MANY DECENT people. If it were not so, we would NOT HAVE SURVIVED for eight months. These are people who retain human qualities despite the fact that we live in a selfish society. Our society is self-serving, super self-serving, there is only one god in it today - it's money. And it has been formed in this way since the 80s, in fact, and certainly since 91. In this self-serving society, those who preserve all these human qualities and decency have to stand every day. They are isolated from each other, and the environment itself is like granite, it is selfish. It's the same in the military environment – to say that there are no mercenary people in this military environment, would somehow be very strange. But what is characteristic is that the further away the province, the more difficult people's lives are, the less this self-interest is in a sense. The closer it all is to Moscow and to the military elite, including, the worse, the more self-interest. Everything that has manifested itself since the beginning of the special operation is a combination of circumstances that are already clear. And after they began to introduce new legislative norms in everything related to the special operation, one thing BECAME CLEAR that these norms DID NOT EXIST and this was used and used quite widely. Among these "users" were many representatives of the so-called "elite". They were enriched and shattered. And they did not take any positions at all in order to not risk their lives. Their property is to enrich and share in a skillful way, and lick the commanders backside, and not at all to work and create. They DON'T KNOW HOW TO CREATE. For example, these people do not know how to produce new electronic equipment, and there are a lot of them, but THEY CAN glue stickers and take a walrus from this. They can launder budget money and steal, but they can't "catch mice". And you won't force them. They're just different. This is not about the fact that they steal, rather, they could produce ultra-modern equipment, and they need to be frightened in order to produce - They WILL NOT. They can't. If you order them, scare them, they will only get scared and that's it.

Why does a person who wants to enrich himself need mobilization? That's what is necessary for him to get rich. He needs everything, he thinks only about this and does only this. Public indignation about how the mobilization took place is connected with certain properties of the system, but this DOES NOT MEAN that there are no decent military commissars and this DOES NOT MEAN (from the moment when both public figures and some people in a position began to sound the alarm about outrageous things happening during mobilization) that the situation HAS NOT IMPROVED. It has significantly improved, because some people conducted it normally, and others were a little scared. They ducked, complicated their enrichment schemes, but they did not disappear...

In order to mobilize 300 thousand people and prepare them for conducting serious military operations as part of a special operation, we need a deployed infrastructure, we need so-called parts (connections)<sup>3</sup>, we need training grounds, we need the right training system, we need to prepare people for conducting a modern war, and not the one that was planned.

<sup>3</sup> Part (formation) in which the peacetime staff of the formation is manned by half or less of the wartime staff, it is referred to in Russian military terminology as partly cropped (cropped connection).

All this is DONE – IN ADVANCE. But it was not done, because it was believed that we would not fight like this. The prevailing view was that a large conventional WAR WAS IMPOSSIBLE. It would either be a nuclear war or a global war going nuclear. And such a conflict (war) is impossible at all, and there is no need to prepare for it. And within the framework of this, all this framed structure was being curtailed, the correct unfolding of everything in the world, including mobilization, etc. As an illustrative example, partial mobilization is announced AND SUDDENLY – after 3 days, the Deputy Minister of Defense, the head of the rear of the Russian Armed Forces, is removed from office. This probably indicates a SERIOUS UNPREPAREDNESS for such events. But the TV does not comment on this. It, the TV, says that everything is going well, according plan.

For at least eight years, Ukrainians have been building up their military potential.

It is not necessary to exaggerate either the properties of the Ukrainian army or the properties of Ukrainian officials - they are EVEN MORE IGNORANT than ours, but the system was transferred to military rails and foreigners who know how to control it, when they wish. AND THEY WISHED TO. We didn't have that. It means that today we are all faced with the problem of infrastructure, with the methodology of practical training, with the problem of the supply of equipment, its use, etc. A lot of these problems have manifested themselves, and they will continue manifest themselves in various forms. I do not want to say that the system will NOT SOLVE them, I repeat – There is NO REPLACEMENT FOR IT. This is a huge system that includes millions and millions of people. It needs to BE HELPED TO SURVIVE, and if we do not immediately begin to consider the flaws, calculate the loads under which it will collapse and track its failures, then we will NOT HELP the system, rather, we will indulge it in its worst features: greed, mediocrity, and other features. And we have had enough of that! It, this system, within the framework of the tasks of the old Control System solved by it, was created for comfort, for vegetating, for glamour, for antlers, and not at all to plow and plow. And now we have to use this system for other purposes. People would have known all this themselves and solved it if the causes and consequences had been clarified. But they HAVE NOT BEEN CLARIFIED so far and are unlikely to be clarified for the majority. Out of the clarity of this darkness grows a complete misunderstanding – in what is happening. The most real is always the most distant. The most real thing, to which expediency and understanding belong, is so different from human concepts in what is happening today, that it DOES NOT ECHO and DOES NOT COOPERATE with them, but applies them to its own interests. "Expediency... acts through causality".

Everyone now understands that it was necessary to tighten all these nuts BEFORE THE START of a Special Military Operation, to prepare for a difficult conflict. Yet, a fundamentally different concept prevailed, according to which our army is NOT A MIXTURE of heroic people with bedbugs, but something ideal - LEGENDARY AND INVINCIBLE. This was facilitated by the glorification of people who either selfishly or foolishly carried out and are carrying out this glorification. And this concept prevailed with all its costs. Even after it became clear that IT WAS FALSE, such logic has inertia, it does not disappear, it begins to go down the curve. And there was a segmental, incipient decomposition within the factions of the total military contingent. And then, based on what was drummed into our heads when people were shown with horns in their pockets, bolted to a machine gun or behind a belt, then this is a good picture that HAS NOTHING to do with reality. With these shops on your belt and with something taped to the machine, you can take a kiosk and even a shop. But it is impossible to fight, it is impossible to conduct a fire fight for a long time. Because ammunition is brought by cars or wagons, and even for medium motorized rifle units, in conditions of continuous fire combat. So if you have something rotten on both sides and NOT ROTTEN in the middle, then in various ways, through partial collusion (sometimes on an ethnic basis, sometimes on a criminal basis or who knows what basis), the rotten will leave and close them in from below – this means that it will be impossible to bring the right amount of ammunition. Then the most wonderful part can either die or be captured. And then -what does it start doing? It begins to force its way out, which was done by individual units of the Russian Guard, and other representatives of the decent, who fought heroically, put down a lot of the enemy, but WERE FORCED by the prevailing kind of things – to retreat. I'm talking about what happened in the Kharkiv direction. What were the reactions to this? Firstly, the reactions were delayed, because they were afraid to say what was what. Secondly, "songs" immediately began about the fact that "... they just maneuvered like that, crossed to the other side and took up a brilliant defense there..." It was an impudent lie, because they were afraid to tell the truth. Then certain representatives of such a wise pragmatic military direction, began to say that winter was ahead and - why they chose the space on the other side of the Dnieper, it was necessary to optimize everything and give a hefty piece in the south and lie down behind a water barrier. It was STOPPED, SUPPRESSED, and as I understand it, reactions followed from the highest level. The situation has changed once again.

Now about referendums. Did everyone understand what it means to move on to these referendums? This meant a RADICAL CHANGE in fact, what was said earlier, in fact, the very philosophy of the actions being carried out. We are now saying that these territories have become part of Russia and, of course, this is correct. But something else was said. It was said that the government would be corrected and a new brotherhood would arise at the level of turning Ukraine into the same friendly state as Belarus. That's what it said. Now something else is being said, and this other has an irreversible character. Wasn't it initially clear that no Ukraine would recognize these referendums.

So, the only major task here is to change the WHOLE DEFACTO PHILOSOPHY and tell the people who are in this territory that we have irreversibly crossed the rubicon not at the level of the President, who crossed it on 24 February, but at the level of the Constitution, all authorities and the entire Russian state and society. But now people are waiting and don't understand how exactly everything will happen next, and there are continuous indignations – why didn't we do it earlier and what are we doing at all? However, in my opinion, this is an objective process that made many people look around and start thinking. To think and understand that if we are taking inventory and want to reconfigure the existing system, then we need to start cutting off everything rotten and build a new one, carefully, neatly, WITHOUT TOUCHING the system. And only then - WE WILL WIN. In addition to reconfiguration, it is necessary to tighten control over the functioning of the system, as well as the introduction of new components that will NOT DESTROY the main system framework. Only this subtle operation is able to produce a victory. Among those who went to the mobilization points today, there are a lot of people who sincerely, selflessly fulfill their duty. They will fight well if they are properly trained, equipped, and create the right military, strategic, and other schemes. And run it the right way, without a double bottom, telling them the truth about what is happening. The many musings, echoed by Chechen President Kadyrov - "mobilize half of the members of the law enforcement agencies" - will NOT WORK. Because the employees of law enforcement agencies are part of the same consumer society created over the last 30 years. Many of them are making a career and are not at all determined to die for their homeland. The only way is to inventory everything military that is available, to give way to those who can live in conditions of tension and creation. Clean out the rot, put the thieves away (and maybe do something more radical to them and others involved), connect technical equipment with people, teach in a new and properly way. Inventory or die, regroup or die! And if this is not done right now, it will be too late later.

If we act informationally, ideologically and militarily-strategically, as we are acting now (simply on the principle of primitive ways of existing), then SOONER OR LATER it will all turn into the worst that can be. Because the existing complex capabilities will NOT BE USED, and the primitive ones will not be used effectively enough and they will have to be built up, which is what all those who have brought Ukraine to its present state keep pushing us to do. They're just howling, "Well, shoot tactical nuclear weapons, shoot them...". Another trap, because this linear escalation is calculated by the enemy. So, all that can be done is to carefully use the existing means of the system, change configurations, encourage, activate, put forward human material that has shown its effectiveness and remove these gangrenous parts that naturally exist in the system when the money-grubbers were put on a pedestal and produced for more than 30 years, with the totality of the corresponding spiritual production system. This is a delicate operation. But, it is only this operation that is able to give us victory. Everything else is trapped and a dead-end. It is necessary to take inventory of everything that is military, REALLY MILITARY, and saturate it with opportunities, strain the military-technical sector, give way to those who can live in these conditions of tension and creation, ruthlessly remove the rest, imprison the thieves or, I repeat, do something more radical with them and others involved.

To connect technical equipment with the human contingent, because if you give them any tanks, if there is junk in them, they will still be junk. We need to teach the military in a new way as well. Do we need to toughen the laws? We must! Do we need to mobilize people? It is necessary. The question is that this needs to be done more comprehensively, systematically, based on an understanding of the inventory that SOMEONE HAS to carry out. You'll have to do it anyway. But if you do some things now, it will really affect the current situation.

As an example (and this applies to all people who live in the annexed territories today), before becoming a full-fledged Russian, that is, to obtain an internal civil passport of the Russian Federation, an applicant for Russian citizenship must UNDERGO THE PROCEDURE of taking the oath of citizenship of Russia. This requirement appeared relatively recently – the relevant law CAME INTO FORCE on 1 September, 2017. Probably, few readers know about this. A little earlier, on 26 January, 2016, following a meeting of the Anti-Corruption Council, President V. V. Putin APPROVED THE ORDER:

a) inform persons holding public positions of the Russian Federation, positions of the federal public service, positions in state corporations (companies), funds and other organizations established on the basis of federal laws, positions in organizations established to fulfill the tasks assigned to federal state bodies, appointment to and dismissal from which are carried out by the President of the Russian Federation and the Government of the Russian Federation, as well as other positions provided for by the legislation of the Russian Federation, about the need for timely and proper fulfillment of the obligation to report in the prescribed manner about the occurrence of personal interest in the performance of official duties, which leads or may lead to a conflict of interest;

b) ensure the provision of methodological assistance to the persons named in subparagraph "a" of this paragraph in the preparation of appropriate notifications on the occurrence of personal interest in the performance of official duties, which leads or may lead to a conflict of interests.

The deadline is 1 March, 2016;

c) submit proposals in accordance with the established procedure: on the introduction of the procedure for taking the oath by state civil servants and disciplinary responsibility in the case of finding facts of its violation;

The deadline is 1 April, 2016.

And no one knows about it at all today. But let's ask ourselves a simple question – are civil servants who have civil ranks (equated to the military), NOT UNDER Oath of service to their country and to us – the people of this country? How can it be so, and even more so today? Officials of the so-called category "A" – senior management - A valid state adviser of the Russian Federation of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd class (equated to military ranks – (Army General, lieutenant General, Major General) and without any obligations to the Country and its people? I will not indicate here the name of the one who did everything to PREVENT this instruction from BEING IMPLEMENTED by the President of the Russian Federation. And why it was done – IT is NOT DIFFICULT to guess from today's affairs and not only today's, this so-called "cohort of the all-powerful managers" and "the arbiters of our destinies".

So, can we start with this immediately? I will write my vision about the Oath and the consequences of not fulfilling the Oath in the next article, because I believe that people should know this and I am sure that many will agree with me. This is what it is – the transformation of the current system without its destruction and the beginning of the removal from it (the system), of everything vile and unacceptable, everything that really manifested itself in all its glory after 23 February. However, the most important thing in this is the concept of people, ordinary people who did not understand why everything was happening the way it was and what it all led to ... and could lead to in the end.

I believe and know that Russia will stand. I believe that the Russian people are the last living people of the so-called white race. I am absolutely sure that these are the CHRISTIAN PEOPLE and that the fate of humanity, and not only the fate of Russia, depends on THEIR SURVIVAL. That's why I DON'T CONSIDER it possible, in this situation, to destroy and bring down the system. It's called chopping down the branch you're sitting on. Everything should be thinner, smarter, more complex. The main thing, I believe, is that this is all for the long haul. That even if in this situation there is no disruptions similar to Kharkov, then all the same strategic alignment over a long interval requires only one thing, NOT THE DESTRUCTION of the existing one, but its rigid transformation, and most importantly – the spiritual production of a person with a new worldview. This will make it possible not to copy the patterns of the past era, as seemingly obvious as they are unworkable today. While they are trying to replace the ideological vacuum with the idea of a way of life, the situation cannot be corrected even in theory. This is the key.
