Reflections on a given topic in the article "047_369 THE TIME of COMPREHENSION" by F. D. Shkrudnev

We perceive the world around us through our vision and through the established subjective assessments of the processes taking place in it, perceived by us as a reflection of objective reality, dressed in the clothes of our common and rather primitive ideas transmitted to us from the past through the training and mastering of past knowledge by each generation living before us and with us on Mother Earth ... And, as the author of the article shows by examples, knowledge from the past has reached us thanks to faith in them as a reflection of objective reality and infallibility, faith in the authority of those, who formed them and went down in history as the founder of some group of knowledge. However, not all knowledge was welcomed by society and especially by those who were at the head of the managerial elite.

What is happening on Earth now is not an accident, but a kind of predestination associated with the sequence of stages in the development of our civilization along the path of intelligent orientation. In order for everything to go according to plan (according to a pre-written score), all changes in the shape of space and everything related to it, where the action should take place, must be coordinated at all levels of the System and comprehended by us.

We try to perceive the world around us and its manifestations systematically, because everything in it is interconnected and this world itself consists of systems and develops according to uniform laws, which we gradually discover for ourselves, trying to comprehend. Consequently, all events taking place on Earth must be viewed and perceived from a systemic perspective. Here the author clearly pointed out the reason for what is happening on our mother Earth, which consists of many systems and subsystems operating under the general control of the Earth's Control System, so events, for example, related to the earthquake in Turkey and events in Ukraine are events (phenomena) of the same order: disruption of current processes and failures in the control system itself. This is the beginning of the "...program process for "Changing the shape of the radiation frequency scattering in space" (beginning from 2012.11.23), i.e., the formation of a FUNDAMENTALLY NEW sphere of living space", which is why we did not understand it and considered all events independently of each other and in general from the system process itself. Therefore, further events for the habitual process of thinking will be in some sense illogical, far-fetched and going beyond the usual and our subjective logic. But this is a program process indicating that the processes of new energy-informational support for managing the entire surrounding world have begun with "unconditional provision of the POSSIBILITY of TRANSITION to a different path of civilizational development." Then everything falls into place – the same changes in the physical properties of a number of elements, the impossibility of functioning of a number of systems created by mankind (electrical, computer, etc.).

Everything is changing, and even the public consciousness is changing, and there is no return to its former state, and there will never be a return, and the temporary chaos in consciousness will soon dry up instead of it, and this is irreversible." That's the main thing to understand and accept the expected and upcoming near future.

Management is the basis of the coming process, through which the governing elite strives to act, in whose hands is the global "tool" itself – the SYSTEM, in order to harmonize and adjust its work immediately as needed by those who are trying to control this world according to their own written score. And when failures in the system begin, then the score should be adjusted during this period, without violating the overall plan of the SYSTEM.

Management is the cause of all problems. It follows from this that an element is needed through which this harmonizing management should take place, given that all processes go from the past to the future, and not vice versa...

Human management is one of the most important components in the creation of specific brain genotypes and through them the implementation of all the same HUMAN MANAGEMENT to achieve certain goals.

Our perception is selective: we do not see reality, but only what we are internally ready to accept. We ignore obvious phenomena and facts if they do not fit into our picture of the world, contradict the established system of values and goals.

As the author writes, people will cease to be naive and gullible blind people in their state of consciousness. I know and am sure that there is a limit to all this, it is systematically accompanied and irreversible. What is happening in our time and on Earth is an entropic process and there will be no return to the original state.

The author asks the reader: "Does everything in the correction of public consciousness depend on the will and desire of people, if not, what can people themselves do in this case? How and with what help can we help and organize for people such an important and necessarily process of changing their social consciousness into its required EXPEDIENT STATE, since it is through its level and state that the current society of people can be recognized by Humanity or not?"

He recommends that those who are trying to understand what is happening carefully look at and analyze the stage of the "transformation" of faith into religion as a tool for managing people, and as an event not subject to any discussion and reflection, which, if there were, were RUTHLESSLY SUPPRESSED within the Old control system.

Management is the basis that seeks to harmonize the System immediately in the way that it is necessary for those who are trying to manage this world. Because management is the cause of all problems... Hence, an element is needed through which this harmonizing control should take place. And an attempt to do this through sacrifice in relation to God himself is an attempt to find an ideal object that will perfectly fulfill this function: GOD himself sacrifices himself to himself, retaining the ability to perform the function of God, while people should know the price of their liberation, because everything received for nothing is not appreciated by them. Therefore, all changes in religion take place to improve the management system of people, and no more. First, it was necessary to create a control theory, and then solve any crowd management problems.

In the meantime, it is ordered – to consciously BELIEVE...
