Managing leadership

*Our consciousness builds the world.
The old consciousness lives in the old world.
A new consciousness manifests a new world.
This is an axiom.*

The world is systemic, and this is the main thing... Therefore, the basis for the development of modern knowledge should be based on System Knowledge, which we habitually refer to as New Knowledge, although the very concept of "New" reflects only the temporary binding of MODERN KNOWLEDGE to any period of development of the object that is the focus of our attention, and therefore related to the functioning and development of systems. And, since they reflect the development of the systems currently under consideration, therefore at the moment they are New. It is from these positions that we will consider everything that happens around us in everyday life and makes us LOOK FOR ANSWERS to many things that we DO NOT UNDERSTAND because of our thinking. Do not make premature conclusions and DO NOT LOOK at the situation through the prism of this or that template. And most importantly — distance yourself from emotions.

The modern world with its market, democracy, progress, and the priority of material values over spiritual values, seemed unshakable yesterday. By default, it was assumed that night would be replaced by day, winter would be replaced by summer, the economic downturn would be transformed into a new upswing, and periodically emerging problems would somehow resolve themselves. But now the familiar world has shaken. And today, it even awakens the thick-skinned: SOMETHING too alarming and too large-scale has BEGUN. It's scary... to not understand. The analysis of the events shows that the modern world is disappearing into oblivion. This is NOT A CHANGE of particulars or even A CHANGE of epochs. The familiar world will no longer exist, just as the greenhouse tropics and dinosaurs do not exist anymore. Events comparable to the World Flood and the Ice Age are coming.

To make the unfounded hopes of sitting out become obvious, let's consider the visible part of the situation of the last one hundred fifty years. Let's start with the uncontroversial facts. Unprecedented technological progress has increased the speed of information transfer and the movement of goods. Today, the planet can be flown in 40 minutes, information can be transmitted in seconds.

Space seemed to shrink, and time accelerated. People began to think within their region (city, region, country), perceiving themselves as a whole, and the world around them as a semi-abstraction and something like a resource application. The only understanding of the whole world — religious — with the beginning of a new era began to give way to new thinking. The world is beginning to be understood as a whole NOT in RELIGIOUS and philosophical terms, but in political and economic terms.

America has made the most of the prospects that have opened up. Rather, an intellectual group, through whose efforts a new type of world empire was being built. For the politicians of the new formation, thinking globally, on the scale of the whole world, was as commonplace as going to work every day, for us. In 1907, the US Federal Reserve System appeared. In fact, it is a factory for the production of world money — the dollar. The whole world makes goods and services, extracts resources and energy. The USA makes money with which they buy goods and services of others. It DID NOT SUDDENLY start; the situation was shaped for decades. At first, the United States developed science, industry, and the economy. But in parallel, they built a "factory" for the production of world currency. And one day the system started working... It started working as an objective process through specific people with a specific Brain genotype, outside of their independent activity, because in the period from 1841 the fourth stage of the era of digital information civilization of human development began, which lasted until 1990. Let me remind you that during the "Easter" of 1841, the 442 Brain genotype was introduced by the Alps 2 Control Complex, the DEVELOPMENT STEPS of which completed a long stage of the managerial development process of the entire System, one of which was the implementation of the program for the development of a total of 44 Brain genotypes, namely, the formation of basically a special group of performers framed in the structure of the "Golden Billion".

The formed group of individuals had a smaller quantitative mass, but had significant advantages in functional purpose, one of which was the CREATION of a "FACTORY" for the production of currency. Through this, the path in the development of the planetary program "Globalization" was started. Without humanity in the target orientation of the functions assigned to this group and ruthlessness to everything living and existing, compacted and COMPRESSED IN TIME, gave them an incredibly cruel and bloody essence in all steps, programmatically embedded thoughts and actions when implementing the set goals as a private Vector of THIS STAGE of Brain development. This is the true reason for the particularly high saturation of all the revolutionary events and world wars of this period, as a way of implementing a given program on the part of the System. That was the program.

Individuals of the 442 Brain genotype, who had a higher ability to accept and perceive only the "program-object" reality provided for them by the controlling substance of the state of Mind, were destined to pass the path of five social forms in a short time: capitalism, socialism, fragments of communism, liberal democracy and global (local) industrial feudalism. Based on the grandiosity of the program scale, the extreme intensity of constructive global transformations in the social structures of states, the multiple changes in the legal and value foundations of local and international scale, the intensive development of planetary systems in the FIELD OF FINANCE, military-political, economic and other spheres — there has NEVER BEEN an equal period in the history of the entire civilization. For a hundred and fifty years, only the basic foundations of social values on the whole planet have FUNDAMENTALLY CHANGED FIVE TIMES. Throughout the entire period of functioning of the old Interventional Control System, people were subjected to program control through such a Mind, i.e., only to such a controlled awareness of "objective reality", which the System developed through Control Complexes, gradually increasing the octaves of the brain and only for its program purposes "growing peculiar Brain genotypes" and no more. With the introduction of Brain genotype 442, the entire system of managing the existence of the world community finally moved into the phase of IRREVERSIBLE PRIMACY of the "Golden Billion" over the rest of the planet's population, structurally consolidating all the power of its authority through complex all-round violence framed in the form of a pyramid of power. The phase of civilization had begun — management through a force accompanied by Complexes. In the legitimacy of such a construction, the SUBJECTIVE FACTOR is completely absent, since it has been replaced by the power of money, the power of power, the power of sacred and various confessional influences. Moreover, this whole structure of world governance was provided and accompanied by Control Complexes (the Caucasus and the Alps), forming a programmatic individual and associated "program-object" mind that orients all individuals of the planet not to the true objective reality, but to the ARTIFICIALLY CREATED by the System. At the head of this complex pyramid of world governance was a certain structure of individuals of Brain genotype 442 — the "Nadiudean Priesthood"<sup>1</sup>. Through them, as the leading executors of the old Conceptual power, the implementation of strategic program processes of the old Control System was carried out, ensuring a stable state of the control pyramid.

As a special additional organizing tool of social values, a PROGRAMMATIC IMPACT on people was applied — the "division of labor", as a model construction of social inequality. The programmatic acquisition of social status and the division of labor according to Brain genotypes played a truly LEADING ROLE in determining the construction of statehood and establishing all the legal foundations of the existence of societies without the participation of the subjective factor and its mind, with strict provision and support of Control Complexes. With the introduction of new mantissas to the Brain, the System, through its Control Complexes, including Alps 2, created all the circumstances of a significant change in the essence of the program-defining control substance of the state of the Ebrov Mind of that time, giving it an aggressive destructive character in everything. It was from this fact, if it is permissible to put it in words, that the degree of deviation from harmony with the primary determining substance of the true state of the Supreme Mind reached its maximum limit and was subsequently held at this level almost until 1985 by various governing incarnations.

The awareness of the surrounding "objective reality" by the leading performers from the Conceptual Power, was fully oriented and framed in the "Power of Power" program for the entire century and a half, taking into account the already launched and working "money factory". As a result of the implementation of this program, the performers organized and executed a bloody step-by-step path: Revolutionism, Militant Fascism and Destructive Democracy. The state of "Imperious revanchism" in the field of management, which lasted until 1990, allowed representatives of Brain genotype 442 to fully perform their program functions. They managed to use the bones and blood of hundreds of millions of people to prepare an UNSHAKABLE STATE of POWER in all spheres of managing the existence of the world community, to create programmatic social and managerial structures of a local and global plan, to ensure the necessary amounts of accumulation and concentration of financial resources management and the circulating produced substitute in their hands, as well as to prepare a different social situation for the future "Golden Million" (as the leading part of the "Golden Billion") at the subsequent stage of development. I wrote all this just so that the illusions in simplifying the assessment of the processes taking place today before our eyes would disappear. Processes that implement complete changes in the world "built" by the Old System that surrounded and surrounds us today.

Here I spoke of the global, little understood and perceived exactly as it was in the original. "It has been proven that Humanity does not exist - it does not have iz(s)torii. At least — not from iz(s) torii BC. And the later of iz(s)torah is apocryphal so much that it can be perceived as a fairy tale ..." N. Morozov<sup>2</sup> said at the time on the basis of his own research. And he's right, of course. We are convinced of this every day.

It is very important for us to learn to understand the specific reasons that affect what is happening. The reasons that are initiated by people who think that they will achieve their goals through the creation of these reasons, but as a result they solve completely different tasks, many of which neither they nor many other people UNDERSTAND. Simplifications of brain functions in individuals with the 4XX genotype, from the point of view of their influencing significance throughout society and the usefulness of their actions and their very existence within the framework of the ongoing processes of change, occurred due to a FUNDAMENTAL CHANGE in the very essence of energy-informational translation by the recreating new Control System to support people's performing actions. This is a SYSTEMIC PROCESS, and it proceeds independently of our will and consciousness. There is a completely different orientation in the preparation and execution of actions and events. Those former goals, techniques and methods of action and their management are ALREADY BECOMING an atavism. The preservation of a part of the controlling energy-informational support for them is connected with ensuring their biological existence and accompanying actions related to the destruction of the old Structure of THEIR ORGANIZED existence. Such simplification has occurred since the "Final change of the System Power" (since 2011.04.24). This "simplification" is increasing and especially rapidly nowadays, which, in fact, is why many people do not understand what they are doing.

This is what we are going to consider with you, making our own conclusions, which will allow us to understand what seems objective today, but in fact is a consequence of the destruction of everything that was built under the old System of Government to achieve a specific goal, which is NOT REALIZED ever.

In the era before gunpowder, the war was fought with metal. In the era of gunpowder — by fire. In our time, the war is waged by information, because it is the only weapon in the struggle for consciousness. The soldiers of this war are directors, screenwriters, composers, writers and other workers of the creative "factory". Forming an information army of the enemy, they have no idea about the purpose for which they are working. Roughly speaking, the army of talents is used in the dark. A vivid example: directors and screenwriters put bed scenes in the plot of the film NOT in order to corrupt the people, this is not their level of goal.

<sup>2</sup> Nikolai Alexandrovich Morozov was a Russian revolutionary who spent about 25 years in prison for revolutionary activities against the tsarist government. He was also an academician who published works in various fields of science and history, and a pioneer of aviation in Russia.

They want to attract the public and make money. What tasks are solved through this, the merchants of creativity and the creators-performers DO NOT SUSPECT. Everyone is pursuing their own little profitable goal while actively working for someone else's. The comic nature of the situation is that most cannot be told that they are working for someone else's goal, they are destroying the foundation of traditional civilization. No, of course you can, but people will laugh. Few of the creators are able to think: why is it that everyone is moving in the same direction, without conspiring? And few of the few are willing to look for an answer.

A number of questions arise. First of all, how is it technically possible at all — to "attach" a navigator to all creative people and make them move on a course they don't realize? How can you force a person to play a role in someone else's play without dedicating him to the script? How can an entire army of talents be used as a tool? In the second half of the twentieth century, a fundamentally new, NON-FORCEFUL plan for the destruction of traditional states was developed. For the first time in the history of mankind, manipulative technologies were used as the main offensive tool. Previously, they were also used, but only as an auxiliary tool. In the new type of war, the emphasis was not on industrial and strategic objects, as in the classical war, but ON CONSCIOUSNESS. The ideological bombardment of consciousness has replaced the traditional worldview with a consumer one. On the basis of someone else's ideological base, a light myth about a consumer society and a dark one about a traditional one was created. After such ideological bombardments, deep cracks appeared in the state body, where various "wedges" began to be hammered — from worship of the consumer lifestyle to immorality. As a result, the structure of the country began to fall apart. NO-ONE really UNDERSTOOD anything, because no government covered the entire scope of the situation. The processes that began were perceived as spontaneous. Only the system can resist the system. An information army can be opposed by another information army. If the enemy has an army of creators, only the army of creators can resist it. Individual geniuses are NOT QUOTED for many reasons. Firstly, they do not form a shaft of products comparable to the "army". Secondly, everyone acts to the best of their understanding, whereas the army "works" in a rigid corridor.

Is it possible to create such an army now? The answer is UNEQUIVOCALLY — YES. Despite the fact that society is thoroughly saturated with consumerism, there are remnants of the traditional worldview in every person, including the creator. And even products based on traditional values are available. Another thing is that it was purposefully ignored, and the brisk "cuckoos"-opportunists pushed the traditionalists out of all spheres of activity. IT'S TIME to thoroughly push the "cuckoos", and instead of the soap-porn-bloody "cheapies" planted on us, give people a quality product that carries love, kindness and a sense of pride in the work of human hands. The Soviet creators yesterday and the liberal ones today DID NOT HAVE the goal of creating a consumer society, but they created it. People who grew up on their books and films became atheists and "believing materialists" not from eating sausage, but from using information. The quality of the products, became the quality of the people who consumed them. It's funny to see how the aged creators complain: the new generation offends us. The comicality of the situation is that they themselves, at one time, with their creativity, imposed on people the model of behavior that they are dissatisfied with today. Creative people sincerely do not understand that they spat into the well. Now it's time to drink the water, and they wince... it seemed to the creators — they just create, write books, make films, compose songs, through which they express themselves. Human themes about love, meanness, honor and so on were raised. Some dreamed of making society better, others just chased fame and money. But all of them, AGAINST their WILL, sewed into the fabric of their works the strokes that form a second-plan picture that forms the subconscious.

The Soviet and liberal systems created creators so that they would inspire society with a materialistic understanding of the world and destroy the religious one. When trying to create an army of existing creators, there is a danger of getting a wolf in sheep's clothing, and the wolf himself will NOT UNDERSTAND who he is.

I readily admit that he will take up the creation of the ordered product in good faith, but he will not go anywhere from his subconscious. Acting auto-motorically, while "simplifying" the functioning of the brain, he paints his product with paints, which, in his opinion, is the ordered product. As a result, you will get a splint format that works not for the idea, but against it. Although outwardly everything will be beautiful, there is nothing to complain about.

Plus, he will stuff him with materialistic and consumer attitudes, which he will NOT SEE himself, but which will slip into the subconscious of society like another snake.

Now I would like to move from this problem to political problems. Remember — our mass media discussed the problem of vaccination in a very strange way. They discussed it hysterically and with elements of obvious insults towards those who DID NOT AGREE to do it. The question arises, which those who organized such a thing did not even think about — did they, hysterically holding on to power, forever break off relations with this group? Will this relationship NEVER BE RESTORED? And in the elections too? Did they not understand that every time the requirements of this vaccination CROSS the LINE of categorical imposition — the effect is reversed? They, and we, too, observing what is happening or becoming participants in such refusals, have forgotten the words of the great classics that the strictness of Russian laws is compensated only by the non-obligation to comply with them? Didn't we understand who the trust was actually transferred to as a result of this hysterical company? It was given to local priests, local minor doctors. THEY DIDN'T TRUST ANYONE ANYMORE. It was necessary to achieve the same! Why couldn't the same thing be done 10 times softer if vaccination is needed? I am sure that another 15-20 percent would be vaccinated calmly. I am NOT CONSIDERING the effectiveness (benefit — harm) of the vaccine itself here, this is a separate conversation. I focus on the performance moments in the group of automotive "managers" as an indicator of their effectiveness in solving the tasks set. Does anyone know how many were vaccinated? How many fake certificates were given? How many have avoided all this by any means? Have you forgotten that in Russia the most important saying is "the law is a telegraph pole - you can't jump over it, you can't go around it..."? Please note — this group of the population just DID NOT FLEE the country. Moreover, many of this group volunteered. Why was it necessary to traumatize this group, at the command of "zealous doers", through all mass media outlets with their assessments along the lines of "idiots, degenerates and cattle"? It, this group, today turned out to be the backbone for the entire existing system of power, it is the backbone for every future election (about the democracy of electability in the following articles), and it is the backbone for the war. It is these Russian guys who are going to fight.

Through such examples and not only through this one, the UNDESIRABLE effect of confrontations in management began to manifest itself, which should be expressed as extreme egoism. It has played and still continues to play only a negative role in the effectiveness of the management process in the execution of the laid programs, because the effect of the program bookmark on the rigid hierarchy between representatives of the Brain genotypes 42 and 43 has become more and more blurred. Firsthand and everywhere, the effects of a sharp increase in "business activity" are already being manifested not in their business, i.e., not according to their purpose. How much is trust worth today? Is a world without trust at all possible? When we get on a plane, do we trust and believe that it won't fall?

In my opinion, it is NOT WORTH it at all for the Ministry of Finance. I believe that the measures that have been implemented on pension reform have seriously undermined confidence. We are told all the time that there is ENOUGH MONEY FOR EVERYTHING. But the same Ministry of Finance estimated that by raising the retirement age, a lot of money will be saved, which will go to people's social security. Did the Ministry of Finance estimate how much grandmothers cost in Russia? But it's not in this department. How much is the unpaid labor of grandmothers, who must be replaced by qualified nannies, and will the Russian people trust these nannies as much as they trust their grandmothers? And where will we get these nannies?

Then there is the question of what we are all talking about demographics. This is the most important issue today. But the whole demography is determined by the amount of maternity capital. And this is just one ideology that is sitting in the heads of "managers" and decision makers today. Ideology - "we will solve everything through the amount of money."

It seems that women give birth if they are paid. I'm not saying YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY. I'm just saying it's NOT ENOUGH. Today there is a war not for the territory, the war is for the future of humanity, moreover, the future, which now points to demographic problems, is problematic as such. Mothers will not want to give birth, and no amount of money will stimulate them to this, although money is an important component. Undoubtedly, a huge composition of material, spiritual and social factors is needed, within which THIS GRANDMOTHER is one of the main social factors. But within the framework created by the Ministry of Finance, these grandmothers will wean themselves from their family-free paid work and disappear as a social factor. You can't treat the Russian heritage so casually. And that's all — you need to change. To change within the framework of the current state, and not "... we will destroy. To the bottom, and then...".

But this cannot be changed by leaving on the billboards in Moscow the way of life expressed today - the picture moves - sausages, then a half-naked model advertising stockings, then a hero of the Donetsk operation, then a hero of Russia, then again a half-naked model... and everyone thinks that this is fun (in the current popular terminology, which must also be changed). There is little that can be changed when medicine, for example, has become a world of services. In Russia, medicine and education, which have become a world of services, are dead. Far from it, NOT EVERYONE should live under communism, but doctors and teachers SHOULD NOT be dependent on any kind of commercialization.

Any great country dies without great goals. Reducing Russia from the level of a world power to the level of a world warehouse automatically destroys its greatness and power. The voice of the units that correctly assess what is happening is drowning among the children's hum. The country is like a theater of the absurd, like a kindergarten ABANDONED to the MERCY of FATE. Where are the roots of this situation? To begin with, there are still forces in the world that are interested in destroying the roots of traditional countries, be it even Russia, even Germany, even France. The simplest and "peaceful" option of weakening is to organize processes that place people in key places that DO NOT CORRESPOND to the scale of these positions. No matter how honest they may be, if the problem is beyond the understanding of these people, any of their actions will lead to the collapse of the country. The demonstrability of this has already been demonstrated and is clear to many. There is no need for any saboteurs and terrorist attacks. It is enough to bring adult "children" into power, and they are guaranteed to destroy any object. Only very large-scale and MAXIMALLY CLOSED people with the 4XX Brain genotype could organize such a situation.

In the era of developed communications, when Internet and TV are in every home, POPULARITY EXCLUDES freedom of action. The information age makes every famous person HOSTAGE TO the SITUATION. As soon as a person becomes popular, he loses the ABILITY to CREATE a situation. Now he can only integrate into it. The situation is created by someone who sits at the chessboard as a player, and does not stand on it as a piece. A popular politician always goes where the momentary situation pushes him. Whoever DOES NOT GO becomes a political corpse, so popular figures today CANNOT have their own long-term strategy. In reality, these are pawns in a very big game, which for some reason is being implemented today not within the framework of what was conceived, but in a completely different direction, but the implementers cannot understand this for the reasons mentioned above. Sometimes their desire to appear modern reaches the point of stupidity, for example, with the appearance of nanotechnology, which was known to the Sumerians and Egyptians. But in 1974, the Japanese Norio Taniguchi<sup>3</sup> introduced the concept of nano to name and denote decimal units.

The unit whose name is formed by attaching the prefix nano- to the name of the original unit is obtained by multiplying the original unit by the number 10<sup>-9</sup>. In other words, the newly formed unit is equal to one billionth of the original unit. And the "nano-" businessmen picked up this term and began to try it on to different concepts: nanomedicine, nanoeconomics, nanomaterial, etc.

Today, it is NOT the WESTERN world that wants to destroy us. We want to be destroyed by those who have already undergone a full simplification of the functions of the Brain, but they are still at the top of power structures. The real danger lies in their automotency of today's thinking. There is nothing more dangerous than a conspiracy theory, when everything is attributed to some evil forces and without any movement there, nothing happens in the world. But this does not mean that there are no conspiracies. Nobody SAYS THERE ARE NO BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS. The Western world wants to destroy us and DOES NOT WANT to use strategic nuclear weapons as a whole for this. He is afraid of the answer and is NOT SURE that he is so ahead of us that he can do without this answer. But there is another weapon — BIOLOGICAL WEAPONS, which the Americans took from the Japanese and developed in an appropriate way, and 10-12 major centers with a total budget are working on improving it much more than our entire medicine. Why can't this biological weapon be used today, within the framework of historical plans and automotency to destroy people from those who rule? How many biological centers have been opened just in Ukraine and in the territories ADJACENT to us! What's going on there? How many people are now not shy to talk about what it is and why all this is organized! Why have people with world-wide achievements, Nobel laureates in everything related to the virus, genome, and so on, been expelled from the process of scientific discussions on these issues? How did the scientific community cancel the imperative of discussion with their own kind, when some were simply sent to madhouses, others were poisoned and so on? What happened? Does this NOT LEAD to specific thoughts?

We may need to quickly build many centers of the highest — fifth degree of protection in the near future, in which the population can be hidden. Perhaps Rospotrebnadzor should come in part to the biological armies and expand them to a million people. Who says he won't? At least all the data we are getting about biological weapons from Ukraine speaks to that. Should we be thinking about it? Of course, we should. All the more so because the very use of such is stealthy, multidimensional, and extremely effective.

With many of the things that threaten us or make us think in alarm we are already facing. But the anxiety that did make us think about and ponder many things is objective and, in my opinion, has been extremely helpful. Alarm has forced everyone to finally turn off their "life autopilot" and switch to "manual control," dependent only on their own understanding of what is happening. And what is happening is already openly saying that the current system of administration is built ONLY ON HEGEMONY, i.e., on the superiority of a narrow group of non-random appointees, accompanied and secured by the actions of law enforcement agencies. All other instruments of power are rigged and legendary for this. In this regard, the need for the use of "Managerial Leadership" under the existing management system has arisen and matured. Managing Leadership is not a substitution or an intervention. This is primarily curatorial supervision of the execution of teams and programs and assistance in management under difficult conditions. This is preserved from the Old Control System and will be continued for a CERTAIN PERIOD as direct Presidential management. The rest of the private structures for building society and management will be provided and manifested by the System in the future. The beginning of this process could be observed on 21 February, adding a careful analysis of what the President of the Russian Federation said in his annual message.

Time ruthlessly unmask everyone and everything that, as it seemed only yesterday, is the basis of this World. The world is really disappointed in the ruling elites — they CANNOT squeeze out anything but arguments about democracy, progress and human rights, continuing to trample on them daily, considering progress through the state of their bank accounts and selling war to the World at the highest price for it, which leads away from peace, progress and human rights. The main conflict today is the conflict between the minority and the majority. The "elites" can only win it by holding power over the people by violence and their ignorance, therefore all talk about progress is talk about those who will be "admitted" to it tomorrow through the opportunity to gain knowledge. And the further, the more they understand that these states are not needed by the people, but they, the "elites", are still needed — the more likely it is that there will be no one to frighten with a war for Peace. And the main thing today is their misunderstanding of what is happening is that they promote the idea of death for the Motherland, and not life for the Motherland. Life, which will defeat death.
