What is the essence of the "Perfect Human Mind" (about Consciousness, Mind, Matter and a certain vanity of tearing confrontation)

Appeal to the organizers of the educational seminar

At the present time of the traditional active autumn creative endeavor, many scientific personalities have taken initiatives to form public judgments on very significant issues that are important in many areas of people's everyday essence at the current stage of ongoing changes within the framework of the general chronological process.

Regardless of the level of existing or non-existing academic titles and degrees, many people are not only interested, but take an active position in the perfection of their previously acquired knowledge. Such an active position demonstrates only one thing - there are more and more of those integrated into the future.

The generation of people currently living on our planet is incredibly lucky – they are participants in grandiose epoch-making processes associated with the embodiment of fundamental events that change not only the entire surrounding reality, but also, very importantly, as a result - the state of Consciousness, Mind and Matter! It is this triune basis of knowledge of the truth that has always played a fundamental role in shaping the foundations of the entire worldview and people's participation in the civilizational development of planet Earth.

After the overthrow, in the change of Systemic power (2011.04.24), a very important shift took place in the very process of learning the truth, which, unfortunately, philosophy is still silent. The process of cognition has moved to a more perfect stage – Materialistic idealism! Previous stages: Idealism before 1841, Materialism 1841 – 2011.

We have received the following information: "The Russian Scientific and Technical Society (RSTS) of St. Petersburg and the Russian Public Movement "Renaissance of the Golden Age" (ROD VZV), are holding a New Knowledge educational seminar called "The Ability to think is the basis for the development of the MIND", which will be held on 27, 28 and 29 September, 2013 in Moscow. Lectures will be given by members of ROD VZV: I.M. Kondrakov and E.A. Bittner."

For my part, I would like to express my gratitude in advance to such an initiative and personally to the organizers themselves, regardless of the specifics and scale of such educational seminars. This is more than a good thing; it is more of a grateful thing!

To my great regret, immediately with the appearance of such announcements and the beginning of organizational events, some "vertically speaking" symptoms began to appear, aimed at destroying the good pure creation with their attempts. To my great regret, and this should be especially emphasized, such symptoms sound from the same ranks of ROD VZV, namely, authored by a certain A. Slobodchikov (http://genocid.net/news_content.php?id=2533, <http://ru-an.info/новости/все-люди-совещают-свои-охики-из-за-незнания/>). I did not have the honor of being acquainted, but I will no longer have the desire to communicate. It is a pity that such a topic touches upon such authors.

Taking this opportunity, I would like to make some clarifications for the "customers" of this article, possibly giving them some enlightenment regarding the chronology of events. Firstly, neither N.A. Morozov, nor A.M. Khatybov, nor I personally, none of us showed any initiative to be included in the Program of Judgments of the first seminar held in St. Petersburg and there are very convincing reasons for this, namely: N.A. Morozov was a contemporary of Nicholas II (for you this is the former Tsar, if this gives you anything), V.I. Lenin, I. Stalin and many others. Even if it is difficult for you, try to reason logically yourself that he could not have been carried away by plagiarism of the works of N. Levashov and even more so, declare his participation in the seminar. I would like to inform you that N.A. Morozov's materials were personally acquired by N. Levashov with pleasure (however, with great difficulty) back in 1995 (1937 edition) and were respected by Nikolai Viktorovich. A.M. Khatybov, to our great regret, passed away in the spring of 2011 and for this reason, he could not declare his works in the seminar Program. Regarding his plagiarism, I can tell you a certain detail: due to geographical proximity and some complicity in research in the field of physics, N. Levashov was allowed to familiarize himself with some results of classified research conducted by A.M. Khatybov and, as a promising physicist, he treated with great respect such results (the physics of cold nuclear fusion) of A. Khatybov, as a more experienced and efficient physicist of that time. That's all you need to know, and don't desecrate the memory of both. As for me, I have repeatedly stated my unwillingness to participate in the internal affairs of the ROD VZV, and my attitude towards N. Levashov is mine, the details of the relationship will not be known to you, since this does not concern you in any way!

However, everyone is their own judge!

Regarding the organizers of the educational seminar

I wish you creative success in such a grateful cause, confidence in the correctness of your deeds and judgments, and in finding like-minded people and partners. With good intentions and support!

As a kind of contribution, I would like to address you with an article on guidelines in judgments about Consciousness, Mind and Matter, as a kind of introductory beginning for your responsible seminar. I hope that this will help you somewhat in terms of scientific and organizational orientation of the work of your seminar.

Sincerely Yours,
B. Makov

The life of people, as well as the life of the Cluster Model of the Earth and all that exists on it and in it, is a small-scale hypostasis of the Life of the Universe. It is strictly oriented by the controlled framework of the Goal Vector of phenomena, actions and events, irreversibly and expediently resulting in their embodiment in the tact or clock cycle of event time, in each specific space of the Universe.

In human judgments about the Life of the Universe, only orthodox "lyricists" in all their "creative" diversity, as well as materialists of the past, are limited by their verbal and other pictorial cacophony. Some, according to the traditional habit of unrestrainedly showing off with words or other demonstrative forms, believe that from everything said or shown (depicted) it is possible to subsequently filter out at least some benefit, more often in personal interests. Others, as certain Observers (measurers, by their definition) of the reality they "feel" (without their sensations, neither matter nor anything happening to it exists), are limited by the scale of their observations and sensations, and therefore in the depth of their knowledge of nature.

Our judgments, limited by the specifics of the above topic, do not affect the participation of specialists from religious confessions, for a number of reasons, including their rigid orthodox approach based on dogmas about the lack of independence of the human mind and doubt about its existence in general. This moment is not the time when it can be spent aimlessly, knowing in advance the results of such expenses.

And the true Life of the Universe is a surprisingly complex variety of target and functional existence of energies! By its origin, It is not oriented towards any accidents, and its purpose is not only to "produce" a certain "likeness" and survive in the "food chain" (including the energy "food" of secret "Black Holes"), as the same orthodox scientific firmament, based on the asserted views of the "livestock" basis. It is neither "probable" nor "relative", as the materialists of the past have been imposing their statements on us for centuries, relying on the dogmas of a century ago.

The life of the Universe is expressed by a targeted certainty about its future existence, with all its resultant reality, created through controlled performing processes at any point in micro and macro space; it is comprehensive, i.e., measurable and self-controlled by its unique dimensionality for this point in space; it is endowed with an individual and associated program (vector) essence for its (or through it) acquisition of expedient (assigned) harmonious states of matter of electric and magnetic fields, as the beginning of the beginnings of its constructive non-random (target, functional) arrangement of the "Created World". It is embodied through a controlled targeted civilizational development, aimed at achieving harmony and perfection of the states of matter, as a whole, at each specific stage of event time, in every dimension of space.

It is with the help of such a new, more advanced methodological approach and understanding of the very essence of life, that all the irreversible inexpediency of the further vicious existence of all current communities of people on Earth is explained, both in the constructive arrangement of all spheres of their cohabitation, and in the purposeful aspiration of all their settled existence, based in everything created only on violence and parasitism. This is the real proof of the very fact of the previously accomplished violent interventionist interference from the outside, in the processes of the true civilizational development of the Earth model as a whole. However, at this logical moment, it is more expedient for us to make judgments about the true light and its future! We were allowed to inform about the following postulated condition for gaining knowledge of the essence of life, namely:

To gain knowledge of the truth about the essence and nature of Life, within the framework of the development of Intelligent Civilizations, means to gain knowledge of the truth about Consciousness, Mind and Matter!!!

The knowledge of this gradually improving trptych of truths (for it is precisely that apophatically hidden trinity) is the basis of the entire worldview of the "Created World". This, first of all, will allow us to find and express a meaningful perception and clarity of Faith in the specific true role and place of Man and Humanity on Earth and beyond, within the framework of the general Hierarchy of developing Civilizations of Intelligent orientation, as well as in the phased processes of embodied civilizational development, both on our planet and outside it.

For the newly formed living space on Earth, it will be a higher-level Faith, based on the fundamental truth about the resulting conscious reality, and not the mythically intimidating and oppressively unexplained dogma of the past about something vague, a punishing Almighty, whose portrait-sculptural existence is imputed as if from the outside (the interventional System). This new Faith is cognizable in the process of recreating Man and providing him with the truth about the "Created World". On the part of the recreating Person, She is pure in her awareness of her place and role in the general real universe and the existence of energies of matter, completely isolating herself from the vague legend of unreal reality imputed earlier by the interventionists. The New Faith is spiritually sensitive to the true Creator, in whatever format he is perceived by people integrated into the future, in contrast to the former humiliatingly worshipful state of the entire spiritual essence of people, before something "undefined and not realized by them", before "which" (since his name has not been determined to this day), on the part of the self-appointed earthly governors, administratively escalated, was a depressive state of fear and threats of constantly impending punishment, from some "Uncertainty" from the outside.

The true Creator is in every re-creating Person, as the Creator, who takes care of the acquisition of his Consciousness, the development of Reason and controls the entire existence of energies, forming probable states of its matter, and not randomly, but specific functionally targeted and expediently necessary states for the entire civilizational development as a whole.

In this regard, on the part of each individual integrated into the future, through and with the help of his conscious self-control in all his affairs of worldly and spiritual harmonious existence, the new Faith is responsible for the results of the embodiment of his individual and associated functional endowment, as a Man of the Earth. With its spiritual development of a higher level in each individual and Humanity as a whole, It is more miraculous through creative activity in the name of Good for the sake of all its equals, observing the obligatory condition of true development through the patronage of a more developed level of every essence (or state of matter of energies) over a less developed state. It does not require the humiliating presence of artificially imposed social inequality in all areas and states of the spiritual and worldly sphere, for before the Creator all are one, since all are responsibly equal in all their being and rational development.

As a result of gaining new knowledge of the trptych of truths \(Consciousness, Mind, Matter\) and a corresponding new state of Faith of a higher true level, all together this will form a different expedient arrangement of all individual and collegial performing actions in harmony with expedient events, which in turn ensure a different non-deviant civilizational development of the life of the planet and society, aimed at Intelligent orientation and embodied in strict accordance with the controlled clock cycle of event time, imputed from Above from the true state of control by the recreating Control System. People have been completely isolated from the knowledge of such a triune truth (Consciousness, Mind, Matter) for almost 18,000 years, which provides additional evidence of the existence of the very fact of a previously accomplished intervention from outside, with respect to the Earth. This prohibition in the knowledge of this triptych of truths has been dispelled since 2011.04.24 (change of System power). Let's return to the essence of the judgments of the announced thematic framework.

The famous mathematician, physicist and philosopher Kurt Friedrich Goedel, along with other solved scientific problems, conducted research on the essence of reason and at the end of his practical activity (the beginning of the 80s of the last century) came to a rather interesting conclusion, which, surprisingly to materialists, was generally recognized in the community, namely: "The Mind is something beyond the brain." We fully agree with this final and deeply fair conclusion of his. But what the true essence of what was said, has remained a mystery and an unsolved problem to this day, and not only for materialists.

Moreover, in the process of our judgments about Consciousness and Mind, we have repeatedly stipulated that only Man is given the opportunity to "acquire a contact state of his Mind with Minds of a higher order and level of development" by his requesting initiative (if he has such an ability to ask). What did we fit into the meaning of this and other stated postulates about the essence of Consciousness and Mind? The eventful time has come, which allows us to touch more deeply on such previous judgments.

Discussing the materials of the theory of the "Foundations of the Formation of Humanity", oppositional materialists who defend their dogmatic interests of orthodox ossified physics, medicine, philosophy, etc., naturally have the right to evaluate our views as idealism. In their opinion, they seemed to be doing it successfully, and we don't mind if it's for the common benefit of gaining knowledge.

But, only our "idealism" has a very clearly expressed MATERIALISTIC basis! And we are far from alone in this "materialistic idealism", as they (the materialists) have not seen the next stage of the development of knowledge (idealism – materialism – materialistic idealism on the basis of energy-informational dialectics), are already far from alone, since, while still struggling and with difficulty, but beginning to raise their heads more boldly and express their vital significance, representatives of quantum physics and mechanics, biologists, chemists, geneticists, astronomers and many other creators in the knowledge of nature (including physicists) are catching up!

It was orthodox materialism itself, that almost completely lost its former vital relevance, acquired a consumer state of parasitism and extreme selfishness on most problematic issues of philosophy and physics (science of nature), replaced the bestowed values of Human creative labor with the values of parasitic social violence of a minority over the overwhelming majority, and in science too. But the modern meaning of the new demands from the developing understanding of the truth, at least about the essence of matter, puts forward other demands, different from the previous framework of its Leninist definition, as a kind of indestructible symbol of knowledge in the past.

This scientific and historical barrier transition in knowledge, was symbolized by a scientific discovery (2008-2013) made by the Russian physicist A.A. Luchin, an employee and scientific partner of the Scientific Research Institute SRI, who theoretically justified and experimentally confirmed the divisibility of the electron (almost 300 years of irrefutable dogma collapsed, the Swiss Collider can be dismantled as unnecessary) and formulated a different methodological approach, a look at the basic principles of building the World: the presence of the primary matter of all things, i.e., the matter of electric and magnetic fields.

Orthodox materialism, relying on the departing ossified dogmas, no longer sees and does not have time to realize a different, i.e., a more perfect meaning of the true essence of matter. They don't see matter exactly where it underlies everything! It is in this that their current scientific and life insolvency is hidden, forcing them to demonstrate their last efforts through administrative violence, to maintain their former "leadership" in forming the basic principles for the now rapidly changing worldview. For the same reason, as well as for the sake of preserving their position of power, they have shown additional violence in the environment of science developing without them, namely: on behalf of the state, a certain Commission was organized "to combat pseudoscience" (in previous historical stages it was called the Inquisition). But true civilizational development, especially in the field of knowledge, cannot be held back by any commissions!

For example, some advanced scientists (such as Stuart Hameroff, Roger Penrose) now make bold judgments about some of the essence of the "Other World", from the point of view of experts from quantum physics and mechanics, studying the reaction processes of various functions and parts of the human brain, occurring in it and beyond. So far, this looks somewhat esoteric, but this is for now. Many other examples can be given, but this is not the essence of our judgments.

How to fit into a single clear picture the current and future ideas about the "Created World", using previously transmitted knowledge from sages of esotericism or representatives of various religious confessions, taking into account the fundamental definitions in the field of knowledge and the private opinions of many scientists, who themselves are now far from unified on the methodological foundations of knowledge of the nature of the world, as such? Perhaps such a code should somehow bring us all closer to the truth and, most likely, there is no other way. While, the continuation of the state of extreme egoism, with attempts to put forward the primacy of any of the three directions of knowledge, will continue to keep the development of civilization at a dead end. But what could be such a connecting link in this associated contradictory code? Such a connecting link is the revealed truths about the energies of Matter, the role and place of Consciousness of the intelligent essence and its Human Mind!

It is generally accepted that all knowledge about our life, acquired by people, can be divided into three main types, according to their origin: religious, scientific and esoteric, in all their variety of manifestations. Each of these types relies on its own roots of the origin of knowledge, basic ideas (dogmas) about the structure of the World, definitions of goals, roles and functions of people in this universe of various scales and much more. Each individual type of knowledge was focused on a certain circle of people and predetermined their specific everyday existence in the corresponding period of event time, from the general "chronicle" chrono-process.

At different periods of event processes, one of the types of knowledge had a predominant advantage over the other two and was a basic determining factor in the formation of temporary life situations for arrangement, management and existence for all people. It should be emphasized in a timely manner that people have always paid attention to a certain lack of independence in choosing the ways of their "someone-oriented" development.

There has never been any unity between them (types of knowledge) on fundamental issues of cognition, more often their mutual relationship was based on aggressive confrontation. This is not a positive factor for influencing and stimulating the pace of civilizational development. The issue of mutual tolerance towards each other, joining efforts at least in solving fundamental problems of cognition, and much more, has tried to be solved many times, but so far there have been no significant changes in the relationship between the bearers of these types of knowledge. One of the pillars, as a fundamental object of research in the acquisition of cognition, in all three types of knowledge, is the understanding of the essence of Consciousness and Mind.

The Consciousness and Mind of people, for reasons unexplained by them, is one of the most apophatic, partly mysterious and most interesting of all existing, at least on Earth, objects of research. Because of this, they (Consciousness and Mind) constantly attract the attention of sages, philosophers, scientists, mystics and many other people. Over the past millennia, is it possible to summarize the results of knowledge about this in a clearer way? And, yes and no.

Yes, because science, religion and esotericism have already laid the results of their judgments on the altar of the final judgment, the colossal attempts and efforts of thousands of scientists, sages of esotericism, ministers of religious confessions around the world, in researching the question of the Consciousness and Reason of people. The merits of these efforts, but not the associated results, undoubtedly exist.

No, because in the battles and theoretical disputes that have taken place, many "lances" have been broken, each of which symbolized elements of some separate contradictory theories or dogmas about Consciousness and Mind as such. We are not talking about fundamental disagreements between materialists or anyone else, since science is still based mainly on materialistic methodology, up to now fundamentally relying on Lenin's definition of matter, and religion and esotericism on others, and it would seem that this dispute has no limit and can never be completed. Although it is generally recognized that successes in each type of knowledge is, as it were, indisputable and, in essence, should be respected in front of each other. But such successes still failed to provide an associated opportunity for people to objectively understand and simulate the most important physical processes of the origin and formation of Consciousness and Mind itself, from their alleged "self-manifestation" to their acquisition of their various numerous states. Each of the separate types of knowledge, deigns its most expressive representatives to declare the degree of the greatest approximation to the truth of cognition, providing theoretical evidence or dogmas, in their opinions, the results of experimental approbation, and so on. The intensity of such statements is undoubtedly increasing nowadays, especially in the field of scientific knowledge, but this still does not give rise to an objective recognition of the uniqueness of the relatively highest proximity of science to the truth.

There has been practically no reasoned answer to the question: why are representatives of these three types of knowledge so strictly limited in their relations with each other and differ in the whole essence of their judgments on this fundamental issue, why can't they combine efforts in research regarding the truth about Consciousness and Mind, because there can only be one truth? The search for a way to find an answer, although it will have a two-sided format of the very meaning of judgments, is very simple - to apply a completely different methodology of judgments, i.e., the methodology of the dialectic of energy-informational development of the management of the existence of energies.

There has been practically no reasoned answer to the question: why are representatives of these three types of knowledge so strictly limited in their relations with each other and differ in the whole essence of their judgments on this fundamental issue, why can't they combine efforts in research regarding the truth about Consciousness and Mind, because there can only be one truth?

The search for a way to find an answer, although it will have a two-sided format of the very meaning of judgments, is very simple - to apply a completely different methodology of judgments, i.e., the methodology of the dialectic of energy-informational development of the management of the energies of being.

On the one hand, the true reason for the disagreement lies in the fact that the basic principle of management, by the interventional System, of all processes of people's life support, was violence and parasitism, excluding any agreement with the essence of the parties' judgments in all basic issues of their lifestyle, including the process of cognition itself. On the other hand, the very fact of the material application of people, in the entire organized and programmatic complex of their executive actions to implement the Programs of the interventionist System, excluded any insights into the truth, especially regarding the understanding of the meaning of Consciousness and Mind as a physical process. The "truth", in all spheres of "cognition", was provided only as it was presented by the interventionist Control System, separately for each type of knowledge and only for the purpose of implementing part of the program processes by means of the material performing application of people, not really caring about their direct true civilizational development, including the formation of distinct states and the levels of their Consciousness and Mind. Therefore, giving Consciousness itself any conceptual categories corresponding to a specific time, including philosophical categories, had the meaning of artificially imputing a limit on some conditional conceptual sufficiency, beyond which, as if people were not destined to move in their cognition at each conditional (programmatic) stage of "their civilizational" development.

The design of the human Mind. equipped by the interventionists and the processes of energy-informational support for its functioning and step-by-step perfection. excluded the possibility for all states of acquired Consciousness to "realize" the very fact of having such a structure as the Mind in general and, moreover, to know the true essence of various states of Consciousness, as a special energetic and physical informational process of individual and collective management, isolated from any possibility of influencing its states by the people themselves. Such a situation not only almost completely isolated a person from understanding the true purpose of Man on Earth, it also deprived one of any chances for real freedom in their self-development (by extreme measures, at least for the Mind) within the framework of the true functional endowment of each individual, as was originally envisaged when creating the Earth itself. Thus, the interventional Control System ensured the complete apophaticism of the influence of people themselves on their emerging Consciousness, especially public Consciousness, as a programmatic "command" from the outside in their complex or local behavioral reality, on all everyday issues for everyone.

But someday it will be necessary to come to respect and have agreement between the parties, between representatives of different types of knowledge, to eliminate their aggressive confrontation in all directions and objects of cognition. It is possible to accomplish this on the basis of newfound knowledge about the truth of the "Created World", in which the truth about Mind, Consciousness and Matter plays an important role.

And that time is coming! At this stage, there are a number of fundamental changes in the management process itself, on the part of the recreating System and not only by the existence of energies, but also by a real change in the whole essence of human existence (as a particular), influencing and relying on the formation of such changes on the conditions of nonviolent governing guardianship, focused primarily on recreating the true Human Being, gaining other states of Consciousness and Mind, helping him in the organization of some constructive forms of his other conscious cohabitation, within the framework of the reorientation of his existence for the purpose of creation.

One of these elements of the changes was the following. On the night of 2012.10.12, one of the true Control Complexes ("Altai"), included a software process that should be conditionally perceived as the "Eucharist", which means Thanksgiving in Greek. Grateful "retribution for everything that was done before" (even taking into account that it was not done by one's own will), this is how it will be more accurate to express the process that started its course as one of the elements of the new governance on Earth. This process, for the first time in its active phase, flowed until until 2012.10.25, and in the future it will be resumed periodically before any completion of a certain event process, as an element of some kind of "cleansing", during the transition to a new state of embodiment of any development processes involving people. This is completely normal, but also irreversible, since it is the only appropriate thing in the processes of adaptation to new living conditions (management). Many people who track their physical condition through the sensations, during this period, probably noticed their unusual state of health, unusual sensations, or some inexplicable and groundless anxiety and much more during this period. Why do we pay attention to such a non-significant, but rather indicative element of change? This will allow us to make judgments about the essence of Consciousness and Mind, using an example in an accessible form.

Control over changes in the general biological state of human flesh cells, is carried out with the help of "Cords", the passage of phantoms of which is now controlled by the Altai Control Complex. The very essence of the outcome of such a physical process is not important, but in a very superficial discussion about it, one can only note that it is based on the "technology" of measuring changes in the density of charges of the matter of magnetic and electrical energy of the brain. The fact is that all changes in the states of Consciousness and Mind, the states of "activity" of neurons and not only in the flesh of brain cells, are associated with changes in the states of matter of the electric and magnetic fields of brain cells (and the rest of the flesh to a lesser extent). This is one of the most important elements of self-knowledge, as one of the mysteries of the "Created World", which should remain not only non-public, but also completely apophatic, because the basic everyday aspirations of people have not yet been "cleansed" from the consequences of parasitism and violence, especially in terms of public consciousness.

It should be noted that "thanksgiving" is not necessarily positive in nature, but is "retribution" for everything actually done. In this regard, the previously discussed inevitability of the emergence of states of "rebellion of consciousness" of people in many regions of the planet, will be periodically stimulated by the System. This will be especially pronounced, first of all, in those geographical places where people are quartered who have not entered the areas of the new guaranteed life support. Moreover, the process of preparing for the transition to a new Structure of organized society of people, naturally requires the elimination of the old System, but not by mechanical means of aggressive destructive violence, as it was previously traditional, but through a change in public consciousness and the overthrow of previously imputed worldly principles, primarily in the public consciousness of the predominant part of society, that is, previously disadvantaged through social parasitism over them.

The true and effective meaning of this process, which is already being carried out under the control of the new System, is the "cleansing" of the information blocks of the brain (both at the level of its antineutrino state and the states of matter of the magnetic energy of brain neurons) from elements of past information, on the basis of which the Consciousness of people and all subsequent general current understanding of the world were previously formed, including on the issues of their everyday arrangement".

The process of such a general purification of the brain's "information blocks", is carried out by information substitution through a new energy-informational broadcast from one of the true Control Complexes, using the technical capabilities of the former Main Intervention Complex Chekhov, as the final control translator for this period of ongoing transformations. The very "technology" of performing such "information substitution" is surprisingly simple in its essence, but upon initiation of people by their technical capabilities at the current level of development, it is limited in feasibility (limited mainly by the level of observation of changes in the states of neurons and the like). This is due to changes in the states of matter of magnetic and electrical energy of brain cells (its individual functional areas), the program of the "active state of interaction" of brain neurons (neurophysiology has discovered some fragments of the connection of neurons into some unknown scheme similar to a biocomputer), lymph and much more. It would be appropriate to add to the above that changing the states of Consciousness and Mind (for the better) in a certain way will change some important fragments of the body's metabolic processes. Diarrhea will not be the main problem for those who want to control the actions of the "rebels". All sorts of "efforts of political technologists" are practically not required at the present time, and this fact has been demonstrated with good speculative effect in some countries of the Middle East and Central Asia, in a short period of time through the results of mass insanity and aggression. All modern "political technology", with the help of which they try to direct the activity of the masses in one direction or the other, ultimately boils down to the use of weapons and violence, and this only destroys peace in society, but the results will not be achieved as before. Former lovers of "leadership" would be better off not doing this.

The time of "benefit" in all the performance and everyday principles of the "conscious" existence of people, has ended, due to the final overthrow of the old System and the elimination of all energy-informational transmission carried out by it, within the framework of the processes of the past interventional control. The process of controlling existence has been transferred to a different basis – a rational orientation, i.e., the root cause of the current existence is the recreation of the true Mind, programmatically embedded for the Earth and Man during their creation. The world is already different and you do not need to get used to this new world, rather, rebuild your being in harmony with the changes taking place.

In this regard, it is necessary to reveal for oneself the awareness of elementary definitions, which will collectively provide the opportunity to understand the Mind, not as a kind of conditional philosophical category (the former is a complete misconception), but as a really existing constructive cluster system in the flesh of Man and his Brain (in its physical plane). Moreover, the Human Mind, as we discussed earlier, is the hypostasis of the Mind of the Earth, and its harmony with the Mind of the Earth is the most important and indispensable condition for the transition to each subsequent stage of Its civilizational development and with the indispensable achievement of harmony in the very process of existence of energies in the entire range of octaves, imputed to It at each specific stage of development.

In these judgments, we will generally touch on some concepts related to the future definition of what is the Perfect Human Mind, as such

Before the realization of the true essence of the Perfect Mind was revealed, we were allowed to inform about three indispensable (by their obligatory existence) Postulates, as a single axiom of logic, underlying the discretely developing Man, namely:

- "Man can never be perfect in his Mind if He realizes his being only in the clock cycle of event time, relative to the current stage of development of the World, both within the limits of the space he is aware of, and within the framework of the entire level of reality surrounding him, that he knows."

The revealed Postulate allows us to assert that the true measure of the perfection of the Human Mind, at each stage of the civilizational development of the Earth, i.e., the so-called achievement of its step-by-step filled perfection, is the ability to proactively realize the created surrounding reality, relative to the actual clock cycle of event time, as well as its current and future functional endowment, as a complicit being in harmony with what is happening in the chronological process of the existence of energies on Earth.

- "Whoever is perfect in Mind, is also Conceptually at a newfound level in the Construction of the social structure of society, according to recognition from his own side" \(from the side of the Control System, first of all\).

Looking ahead a little, it should be noted by the logic of judgment, that this manifest Postulate and the consequential influence of its essence, form part of the basic foundation for the future Construction of the social structure of society – Humanity, excluding violence and other vices, as a liquidated atavism and a consequence of the inexpediency of the entire former management by the interventionist System. This means that the entire constructive hierarchy, according to the levels of the social structure of society, should and will not be arranged on the basis of initiated and organized violence by self-appointed individuals and groups of them, as it was perversely imputed using all the possibilities of uncontrolled state violence. A new hierarchy of levels of the social structure of society is created on the basis of the achieved and recognized perfection of the Mind of each individual and, on the basis of this, provides for the mandatory imputation of the following three main social levels on the basis of its perfection: the Conceptual level (Mental), the Governing level (Wisdom) and the Socio-executive level (Assignment). An additional level is provided in the construction of the social code – Consumer imperfection, which will mainly be represented by the elderly and children, who require mandatory decent and sufficient social support for their existence, from all others.

- "There is nothing more reasonable than the reasonable firmament of Truth revealed by the Creator and embodied by Him in everything that is – the Created World"!

This revealed Postulate is very important, both on the scale of cosmic inclusiveness and the only universal uniqueness, in the sense of excluding any possibility of forming some random opposite to the Universal Mind, as the basis of the entire "Created World". We are talking about the constantly developing perfection of the Universal Mind, its participating inclusiveness in the processes of being the energies of the Cosmos, uniqueness as the firmament of truth, integrity on the scale of the Universal dispensation, not having an accidental, but a functionally concrete construction of any of its construction, embodied through the existence of energies in their inertial (material) and non-inertial (immaterial) states, within the limits of imputed energies of octaves for each individual (planetary) or group (galactic) model complex existing in a controlled state of time and space. Moreover, the material and non-material state of energies should be perceived as conditional, and this conditionality is mainly related only to the level of depth of our knowledge and the current level (stage) of the civilizational development of our planet Earth, as a whole. For our current level of perception of matter, electrical and magnetic energy are conditionally immaterial at the level of octaves above 512, that's how imperfect we are yet!

Mind, as a form of energy-information matter, constructively laid out in harmony with the forms of dispersion of established basic radiation frequencies \(like the entire complex form of the physical body\), on the one hand, and with the forms of constructive arrangement of the matter of magnetic and electric energy, on the other hand, is a part \(hypostasis\) of the Truths of the Creator \(in the image and likeness\) for each current stage of the Revealed Rite of the Soul Essence into the physical plane.

Does the Mind possess the property of its perfection, i.e., a certain ultimate development? Yes and no. A fairer expression in this case would not be "development", but an acquisition of the step-by-step "filling" of one's perfection, striving in its development to eventually come to that state of harmony between the state of Consciousness and the ability to further Cognize about something not yet acquired, which were programmatically embedded individually in each Soul Essence at Its birth (creation). The difficulty in gaining the full perfection of the Mind of each individual and the Earth as a whole, lies in the fact that this process, within the framework of event time, completely depends on the outcome of the entire complex of the ongoing Civilizational development of the entire model structure of the Earth Cluster system (management), the ongoing complex actions and events in the gradual attainment of the perfection of energies of being (eight stages of Earth development) and much more. Individually for each Soul Essence, at each stage of the Revealed Rite granted to it (not by its own desire, but by demand in It at a specific event moment of the general ongoing chrono-processes), the opportunity to achieve its "stage-by-stage" fillable perfection, corresponding to the harmony of the current Goal Vector phenomena, actions and events. There can be no advances and, moreover, no delays, i.e., the limit of each stage of the fillable perfection of the Mind exists and this limit is established by the Supersystem and Systemic levels of control (a person is a Subsystem level of his complicit development)! In the case of a significant marginal lag in the fillable perfection of the Mind, for whatever reason, the individual's brain turns off (physical death of the flesh) until the limits of his potential biological existence are completed, and the Spiritual Essence is "withdrawn", either for certain particular forms of "correction" or for its dispersion, as a special case of further unsuitability. Another option is also possible, when the filled perfection of the individual's Mind has reached its maximum value, before the deadline for possible biological existence for the current stage of being of a Spiritual Essence, in the state of its current Manifested Rite in the physical plane. Then It is "withdrawn" (the individual's brain is turned off) for its subsequent Manifest Rite in the future. This is, as a rule, the most tragic for those close to them, but for the Soul Essence it is "Thanksgiving" for its stage-by-stage filled perfection. This is beyond the framework and possibilities of gerontology, no matter how perfect it is with its technologies and methods.

As for Humans, for each stage of Civilizational development, the Control System sets a limit on the octave level of the brain, strictly corresponding to all parameters of the current state under the conditions of complex life support for both the Brain and other flesh cells. This is the basic foundation for establishing certain limits of a causal nature – the establishment of a limit level of the "stage-by-stage" filled perfection of the individual's Mind. Nevertheless, for each stage of Civilizational development, the level of Perfect Intelligence is determined, and this is very important for the formation of appropriate Structures of a controlled organized society of people, and in the near future – for Humanity. This factor is extremely important, especially for the processes of introducing any new elements into the currently existing Structure of organized existence. The public "Beginning of Beginnings" of this process (at the executive level – for people's actions) is the "New Doctrine of Transition to a different World Order", as a starting element for the implementation of a number of performance programs in the changing state of general management and the formation of a new public consciousness.

Only in this way and then, as a creative Man, being in co-ownership of the perfect Mind, He acquires the ability to obtain knowledge (sufficient in its perfection and depth) about the truth of the "Created World", far beyond everything that was previously known to him. This is how it is destined for him from the Creator, as a kind of program for his development, to express a discrete Path to finding harmony with a higher-level Mind, including the Mind of the Earth. Thus, a person, by recognition (especially from the side of the System that controls the states and functions of his brain), acquires the true meaning of his life, going beyond this current World, with all the resulting states of his surrounding reality, beyond everything he had previously known. It is necessary to pay attention to some important clarifications regarding the expressions that we have applied above, namely:

- "... beyond this current world..." – concerns the nonlinear parameters of the present space covered by consciousness, as well as parameters related to the characteristics of states of stable information, contact with changing states of energies within the imputed octave interval of the current period and energies of higher octaves of the future;

- "... beyond everything previously known..." – this judgment concerns the provided, i.e., "gratuitously granted" ability of the restored Human brain structure to receive, decrypt and subsequently apply higher-level cognitive information by increasing the level of brain octaves.

One of the deepest mysteries for a person during the Transition period, is the awareness of the very fact of the physical process, in which the harmony of the internal states of the functioning brain and the external states of its control, is formed, which is, as a basic foundation, for the acquisition of the miraculous sacrament – the gradual filled perfection of states of Consciousness and Mind.

This is really an incredibly apophatic mystery (as a reason), having learned, which you can safely be sure that everything else is just investigative executive actions of the Transitional and subsequent periods. But such performing actions will be embodied by a Person who is not in a state of his material application. They (performing actions) are the fulfillment of his functional endowment of Man on Earth, in the state of his Perfect Mind (at this stage of the civilizational development of the Earth) as the hypostasis of the Mind of the Earth.

When being under the power of the interventionist Control System, people could not choose the forms and ways of life. This was imputed to them by the Ebr Control System, through the laid down Conditions of habitation and Conditions of the controlled environment. People were only limitedly involved in the choice and implementation of forms of habitation (both in the directions of geographical quartering and development of areas, and in the performance of the imputed executive functions) and survival (as the programmatic build-up and perfection of the elements of violence), but with their material application in all performing processes of the imputed program of development of an illusory civilization. It is illusory, since the entire previous process of the "interventionist" development took place with an imitation of a civilization of intelligent orientation, this will be fairer.

Will the position and role of people in the general processes of civilization development change through the recreation of Man? Undoubtedly and unconditionally. Unconditionality is realized by acquiring Perfect Mind. And undoubtedly through recreating the true functional endowment of a Person and providing him with knowledge of a completely different level.
