

Salvation of the Saviors (series 44-369) Realities that incarnate...

God does not execute everything himself, so as not to deprive us of our free will and our due share of glory...

Whatever you like, you will exaggerate the pros and downplay the cons. What you don't like, on the contrary, you will exaggerate the minuses, and downplay the pluses.

It is impossible to convince a person of what he SUBCONSCIOUSLY DENIES. This applies even to science. As Max Planck said, science evolves from funeral to funeral. The carriers of the old do not give way to the new, not because they see mistakes, but because they do not like it.

If a person, under the pressure of facts and logic, agrees with something he doesn't want to agree with, it does NOT CHANGE anything. After a short time, he will forget the evidence that forced him to change his opinion. And the feelings that are ingrained in his subconscious will never be forgotten.

"One should not think that an idea makes an impression, even on cultured minds, only if its validity is proved. It is easy to see this by observing how little even the MOST INDISPUTABLE evidence affects most people. The evidence, if it is very striking, can be noticed by some educated individual in the crowd, but the convert, being under the power of the unconscious, will still very quickly return to his original views. If you see him in a few days, he will again present to you all his former arguments and in the same terms, because he is under the influence of former ideas that have become feelings; it is these latter that serve as the deep movers of our speeches and actions. I have already given this example, but it is very instructive, so I will repeat it again - when Professor Cremonini<sup>1</sup> had nothing to object to Galileo's arguments, he (think what?) ... admitted that he was right? By no means. He simply refused to look through the telescope. And he justified his refusal by saying that he would SEE NOTHING through this tube except an optical illusion. And at parting, he told Galileo, who was taken aback, that he preferred to draw information from the Bible.

Cesare Cremonini (22 December, 1550 – 19 June, 1631) was an Italian philosopher and poet. A staunch Aristotelist, the leader of the Italian Peripatetics and an opponent of Galileo.

If irrefutable logic and facts so pin a believer to the wall that he will have nothing to object to, do you think he will give up his views? By no means. He will get the "argument" from the Internet and will remain with his opinion.

It is impossible to shake a person, at the subconscious level, confident in his rightness. People consider to be true what is commonly considered to be true and what is consistent with their constitution. This even applies to mathematics, especially if you believe that it is an exact science, where there is a split and vacillation in the foundations. The larger the scale of the topic being raised and the deeper it is, the more people defend the truths they are accustomed to. Few people are able to listen to criticism of their ABC truths. No wonder Descartes said that the main obstacle on the way to new views and knowledge is our ABC truths. Many have already been convinced that no matter what you say, no matter what arguments, logic and facts you bring, a person will always find something to object to. And even if he can't find a worthy objection, he still WON'T ACCEPT what he doesn't want to accept. The absolute majority of people DO NOT WANT to be convinced of what they do not like to be convinced of, which does not correspond to their views, conflicts with their subconscious attitudes. It makes no sense to reason whether it is good or bad. This is how the world and man work today. So, it is. This fact should be taken as the quality of the material and WORK WITH REALITY, and not complain that it does not meet expectations. At the moment, unfortunately, I am sure that trying to convince people is not only a useful waste of time and effort, but it is also harmful to the topics I raise. To prove to someone who does not want to listen to something new and unusual for myself, I will not prove anything anyway, and the amount of information I GIVE THROUGH articles will certainly grow. It can make it difficult to cover the big picture for someone who is ready for something new. An extremely important remark, in my opinion. But I decided to give something new, through an interest in the past, sometimes also unknown, but quite understandable in our ideas. However, the explanation of events should be presented within the framework of the information that is available today (in my opinion and not only mine), for it is EXTREMELY NECESSARY AND IMPORTANT for people, those people who strive to understand what is happening today in order to understand the prospects of their development and what awaits them in the foreseeable future. And the main thing is how to build this future, and what is their participation (or non-participation) in the current events and processes of today.

Just a year ago, on the night of 24 April, 2022, the transition to the program process of the last year of the 12—year cycle of the "Transition Period" was completed, which began on 2011.04.24. It was 11 years ago that an epochal change of System Power was accomplished – the interventional Ebrov System was overthrown!

Of course, people, not only here, but on the whole planet, DO NOT UNDERSTAND the entire basic part of the creative process of ongoing evolutionary changes being embodied today and reduce what is happening in their perception only to LIMITED INITIATIVE actions within the framework of the "Special Military Operation" of Russia, as if conducted (according to the Anglo-American-European lie) for militaristic purposes, "manifestations of hegemony over innocent and defenseless Europe, demonstrating their greedy aggressiveness so far only on the territory of Ukraine." That's exactly how this false slander sounds from all the means of the criminal mass media system for residents of Europe, England and America. But this year has continued to intensively correct these temporary deviations in the formation of public consciousness of all people. Any level of the currently theatrical lies will NOT HELP, because they are temporary in nature and DO NOT HAVE the truth for all that is happening. People are waking up and freeing themselves from the shroud and fog of lies, previously planted by the parasitic violence of an insignificant Anglo-American-European minority over the overwhelming majority of people all over the planet! This year has already been loaded with a HUGE NUMBER of newly introduced program elements in the control structure of the complex existence of the planet, especially recreating the true states of the Earth's energy balance. The magnetic field of the planet is beginning to have a significantly larger mass and an unevenly increased density, orienting its value to the already prepared modified picture of the functional and territorial NEW ALLOTMENT of geo-administrative entities (including at state levels of scale). There is a process of serious adjustment of the conditions of controlled habitation on our planet towards the true program state. Some of the physical parameters in the atmospheric layers change significantly (especially in layer No. 3 from 0 meters to 1,240 meters) and much more.

The real picture of these processes was demonstrated, practically, throughout the territory – from England to Kamchatka and in North America starting from 21 April to 24 April, 2023, and periodically this will continue, depending on the changes taking place.

The hydrometeorological center does not give a clear explanation for this, except as an atmospheric phenomenon similar to the northern lights. The overall picture of the cohabitation of the entire planet is undergoing SIGNIFICANT CHANGES. The process of transition to a "Different path of Civilizational development" is gaining momentum. The starting element of this most complex episode is the process of the final destruction of all three "Civilizational Lifestyles" previously created by the Ebrov System, especially the American image (triune fascism), which was "introduced" in Russia and not just in the early nineties. The very fact of the COMPLETE DOMINATION of the will of the state over the will of society is classical fascism in NEW FORMS of its modern manifestation. It is for this reason that the expanded possibility of imputation, on the part of the newly formed liberal–democratic state, of three main forms of social parasitism, brought to the level of fascism, namely: financial, administrative-bureaucratic and national-demographic. These are the very "three whales" as a bulwark of modern state violence, based on the dominance of the state will over the will of the people, dressed up in the form of fascism under the FORMAL DEFINITION of the liberal-democratic state structure of governance, which assumed the programmatic function of forming an organized existence without the practical active participation of the indigenous peoples of Russia. The events that are unfolding today within the framework of the embodied scenario of performing program actions "Ukraine", the entire Anglo-American-European platform will NOT BE RELEASED from the entire execution of program actions until the episode of the elimination of the American triune fascism, deployed in Russia and other countries formed after the collapse of the USSR, is basically completed. That is why all the secretly involved "ran" in a panic. Russia, through its people, will independently defend its function as a Leader, since It HAS ALREADY LED the rest of the peoples of the World by a different path of Civilizational development. However, the main tension on the common global platform will remain and increase for the time being – this was "shown" by the System (and not only that) in the "colorful pictures" of 22 April, 2023. You can treat what is written exactly as it is understood by virtue of your own current thinking, but what is happening is a REAL EVENT of universal scale – the elimination of the alien intervention of the Earth! The auto-motor arising part of the residual processes in all spheres of the collapsing organized existence of people associated with the elimination of the consequences of the intervention of the interventional System Mind, as well as the replacement of some of the preserved fragmentary elements of the former management with MORE ADVANCED and "native" ones, are carried out in the course of the implementation of the basic evolutionary and restoration transformations in all structures and states of the Earth's energies, and their management in the transition period 2012-2024, with increasing intensity. Natural disasters caused by tsunamis, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and other so-called "cataclysms" in the last few years around the world are proof of this.

By its very fact of accomplishment, the Universal change of System Power has put, before people and communities of them, the need to participate in the development of a number of IMPORTANT STRATEGIC GUIDELINES and tasks for themselves and their future at a level that they are allowed by the current state of the Brain, but taking into account some correction of PREVIOUSLY PROVIDED knowledge. These tasks represent the most complicated complex of the whole new future life determination of people, the reconstruction of their true role and place not only in the limited model scale of the Earth, but also beyond its borders. And no matter how fantastic it sounds today - in the System of a single hierarchy of other planetary Civilizations of Intelligent Orientation. Only in this way, already by military means and only through the embodiment of everything currently indicated to people by the native Control System, through the "future" and information provided by it in any other form, is it possible to find harmony of "Humanity" with other civilizations...In the near future, a recreated Person is not a destroyer of natural nature, as a "master" on Earth. He can and should be a co-executor of all the ongoing restoration processes, the necessary creative incarnations in the material world, which will arise in the course of the general civilizational development of the entire model of the Earth. He DID NOT CREATE the World with his own hands and his presence, but today he is PROVIDED with

SUCH an OPPORTUNITY and conditions for complex material and non-material life support for arranging his participating active generally useful existence in the interests of harmonious being in this world that he did not create. He must and must be - a caring and economic guardian of all the nature surrounding him and the entities emanating from it. Only then is He a true Man, and only then will He really be needed by the Earth and its recreating Mind. There will be no more winners in the "conquest of the natural nature" of the material and immaterial Created World. And parasitic destruction, for the private purposes of its consumer limited existence in any guise, has NO PLACE in the future. Today's throwing of the so-called "managerial elite" in making and executing various kinds of decisions within the framework of the still existing state administration, which is obvious to almost everyone, is caused by only one thing - the destruction of the previous program processes of interventional System Management, and the elimination of the main humiliating foundation of all previously occurring fulfillment of event chrono-processes. People will NO LONGER be involved in performing states on the terms of material application. All future performance states and actions to embody the event chrono-process in the development of a new civilization, associated with the natural and reasonable involvement of people in these processes, are already organized, accompanied and provided by the native Control System of the Earth WITHOUT IMPUTATION OF VIOLENCE, on which the entire development of mankind has actually been built for the last almost four thousand years, within the framework of the "development of brain genotypes and energy biogenesis of the flesh of the body". Such large-scale changes, embodied now through actions and events on Earth, and directly related to the very fact of involving people in them under the control of the new System, cannot be instantaneous, no matter how much we would like it. However, it is already impossible NOT TO SEE it. The main thing is to learn to understand what is happening and independently (or in groups of like-minded people) analyze, reflect and look for answers to an increasing number of emerging questions caused by the lack of real knowledge, the automatism of today's scientific, elite – governing and our thinking. There is no need to be afraid of this. You need to define for yourself your own guidelines that they are based on your knowledge, which is obtained from sources identified by you – as acceptable, true and close to the truth, both what is happening in the past and today. I will repeat it again and I will repeat it repeatedly – hoping for a response from readers - we are fixated on the present, on experiencing the present.

And this is objective, because of our understanding today. NO ONE CAN look to the Future. I understand why, this is a sign of a deep mental decline, very deep, and socio-cultural too. But if we want to move forward, we will have to focus on this.

New knowledge today, as a rule, is NOT NEEDED by anyone, because the absolute majority of those people whom we can refer to some kind of governing structures (including state ones) benefit from the current state of affairs. Why? Because it is a stable state of affairs and uses the potential opportunities that this power gives. As people say – "after us, the flood ...", i.e., they (these people) do not think much about what will happen in twenty, fifty years. Now we live, we DON'T THINK about anything, we enjoy life and everything suits us. Moreover, it preserves power, preserves economic and financial well-being. For them, it is advantageous that everyone else DOES NOT UNDERSTAND the laws of the world, the capabilities of a thinking person, because it is much easier to lead people who do NOT HAVE freedom of thought and who are unable to analyze and understand anything. This is the manifestation of automatism in the activity and thinking of people today, whose brain genotype, within the framework of the Old control program, should have become prevalent, but it DID NOT and WILL NEVER AGAIN. However, on the basis of this automaticity (with which, due to our thinking, we cannot even figure out what it "pulls"), we still strive to learn completely new aspects of what is happening, which has never happened in reality, if we carefully analyze what we have seen, heard and done today before our eyes of not only the so-called "leaders", but also many other people. Even by people around us and close to us, both by kinship and in spirit. And this is justified by the fact that a whole class of experts has grown up in Russia - from couch analysts to academics, whose favorite thing has become to GIVE ADVICE, to teach everyone in everything, even in what they HAVE NO idea about. This is done by all-knowing bloggers and various so-called "activists" writers and journalists, economists and techies, lawyers and TV presenters, theologians and shamans, even the chairmen of collective farms appear.

Everyone teaches how HARMFUL the existing system is to HUMANITY, that it is necessary to immediately start doing this and that, change one for another, prohibit the third and limit the fourth. They prophesy that if this is not done, the country will collapse, no TRANSFORMATIONS WILL HELP (and they personally, and with them all honest people will not support all those "outrages" that take place) to move into a bright future. The fact that there is a situation in life when you can tolerate something and at the same time disagree is not clear to them. They wouldn't tolerate it. And since the president is slow in the immediate execution of all their advice, the verdict of the advisers is harsh: either the authorities will hear them, or... However, this "or" has been promised to Russia for many years and mainly since 04/24/2011, when the change of System power was finally completed. Many experts have completely erased their words during this time, promising from day to day the collapse of the regions, the economy and Russia, until everyone got TIRED of their horror stories and they STOPPED being taken seriously. Practically, no one quotes many of them anymore. But in addition to the experts who have been published, real think tanks have appeared. The "Izborsky Club<sup>2</sup>", for example, has turned into a headquarters for the search for modern concepts. Its participants describe the situation very competently, deeply analyze the causes of problems, wisely find the roots of the conflict between global and local elites, summarize brilliant generalizations, found the external cause of internal difficulties, and some participants, on the contrary, found the cause of external problems in internal mistakes. And all this "flows" inexhaustibly through the Internet to the heads of ordinary people, causing complete inadequacy in the perception and understanding of what is happening.

Everyone draws variants of the required strategies at the state level, at least. The POLITICALLY EXCITED COMMUNITY has wiped the palms of its hands with applause and is tired of waiting for the president to finally start LISTENING to SMART PEOPLE and start implementing their advice. How much can you tolerate those who cannot be tolerated? Does he, the president, NOT SEE what's going on? Does he really live in another reality? Has the environment so confused his head that he has already torn himself away from the life of the people and apart from the "sweet reports" of the Ministry of Finance and the Central Bank does not perceive anything else?

Russia is dying! And there, in the Kremlin, no one is even listening! The situation resembles the Soviet cartoon "Robbery in Italian", where the main character, the father of a poor family with many children, is chased by a crowd of sympathetic neighbors shouting: "Giuseppe, when are you finally going to rob a bank?" As a result, the indecisive Giuseppe's relatives, acquaintances, police, and mobsters carry him to the bank, where the tellers hand him bags of money, and the entire cheering crowd pours out into the street, praising the timid hero who has finally decided to do the right thing. Everyone is already hoarse and tired, trying to shout over each other in advice to the president, written wherever possible and impossible, on the Internet – what he, the president, needs to do literally from Monday at eight o'clock in the morning, because the end of Russia is inevitable from Tuesday immediately after midnight. And the president keeps procrastinating and thereby brings his temperamental supporters literally to a semi-fainting state. Why? Are they wrong about something? Are they wrong? One can say for sure – they are all right in something. All without exception. They all see real problems and talk about them to the best of THEIR UNDERSTANDING and beliefs. And the president, in my opinion, understands this very well. Then why is he in no hurry to follow their advice? The reason is simple - they DO NOT ADVISE WHAT the president needs. The president does not need to be told what a bad system we have in the yard and what dangers its preservation poses. He knows this better than all of them, because he is most burdened with its risks and consequences. The president needs to be told HOW to AVOID pitfalls if you start implementing their advice. That's where the fun starts. That's where all the major gaps are buried. But no expert IS TALKING about this. They didn't say a word about what kind of social overload would hit the country if they started implementing everything, they had advised from eight in the morning tomorrow. They ARE NOT INTERESTED IN IT. They "look" into the distance. It seems to them that beyond the horizon. The insignificant and despicable difficulties of realizing their destinies DO NOT FALL within the scope of their professional interests. Their task is to draw a picture of what exists and what they want. Explain how disgusting the first is and how wonderful the second is. The problems of combining one with the other are NOT THEIR profession. Their job is to "draw" the project they want. And for the curved walls of the project being implemented – to the builders. Naturally, all failures will not be attributed to them. And at the expense of the president, who did NOT MANAGE. He put the wrong people at the helm. He leaned on the wrong people. Trusted the wrong people. Hired the wrong people. The wrong people. Failed to organize, foresee and implement. Let things get out of hand. Didn't demand from whom it was necessary, didn't replace whom it was necessary. He listened to the wrong people and the wrong way. He could not, did not have the height of his forehead and breadth of vision. In this case, all of them, the advisers, are still in white tails, and only one president is in a bad situation. But these "advisors" do not understand one thing - there is no limitation to their fabrications, even if they are auto-engineered - there is the realization of the vector of purpose, which, due to current processes, is beyond the control of even the president, but is carried out just through him. Most people think like these "advisers" and many agree with them, just because (I don't want to offend anyone) they DO THEY NOT UNDERSTAND, how? And they cannot put everything that is happening into a single whole, which will show the contours of reality. NOT THOSE realities that we observe in the present, but those realities that are embodied precisely through what we observe and evaluate partially, even WITHOUT ADMITTING that this is only a part, and not the whole. This is exactly how global processes occur that change everything, as it should eventually be manifested and executed under the control of a New Control System. You and I are NOT GUILTY of similar fabrications. This is a deep, artificially created understanding of the world, which has been fixed in people for the last millennia, through the old Control System, as part of solving the problem of the step-by-step process of executing Ebrov programs for "The development of brain genotypes and Energy Biogenesis of the flesh of the body."

The realization and understanding of this must be treated

NOT FROM the STANDPOINT of a vulgar orthodox materialistic worldview, but from the standpoint of an already accomplished transition to the stage of knowledge of the truth - materialistic idealism. The methodology and research method applied for the first time on the basis of the energy-informational dialectic of the gradual development of brain genotypes and the improvement of management with the use of Complexes, supporting and accompanying Systems and Objects, with software control from the outside, allowed us to show in a FUNDAMENTALLY DIFFERENT way the objective need to revise all the historical processes of the development of human civilization. The new approach of the research allowed us to show the true, but THE MOST TERRIBLE thing for the current state of awareness, is the material use of people outside of their will and awareness of the very fact of their programmatic use in the past, as such.

With such a process of insurmountable violence against people, the programs and plans of external management were focused on their specific target milestones associated with achieving a certain CONTROLLED LEVEL of development of brain genotypes for a limited contingent of individuals. Corresponding to this, a multi-stage plan for the energy biogenesis of the human body was implemented, with an orientation towards the development and giving it such complex features and states that should be harmonious and acceptable for such a brain genotype and corresponded to their further specific plans under the external control of the old System. This was the TRUE ESSENCE of the whole story. And this is what we all face today, trying to comprehend what is happening, unfortunately, through the prism of the understanding imputed to us, which did not allow us to comprehend our past. It is smooth only on paper. And we remember how in our youth a beautiful and all-powerful teaching, absolutely true in the criticism of existence, completely screwed up in the implementation of the conclusions of this criticism. They dodged, wavered, hesitated with the party line, declared one thing or another correct, adjusted the results of the five-year plans RETROACTIVELY, crushed conspiracies and enemies of the people, imprisoned, shot, broke into space, raised virgin soil, then criticized for excesses and cults, for the decomposition of morals, shortage and stagnation. For perestroika, turned into a firefight. And even rockets and ballets DIDN'T HELP. NOTHING MATERIALIZED from the prophesied, and in the course of adjusting reality to the project, they broke such a thing that after 70 years everything that was done became uninteresting to everyone. So much so that, along with the mistakes, the great state created was also thrown out, about which we are shedding tears today... What CONSEQUENCES, it would seem, against this background, absolutely fair calls to return to improved socialism will entail? Cancel the results of Chubais' shameful privatization? To disperse the oligarchs as a political force? Nationalize the banking system? Introduce currency controls? What forces can become a support? What and how to suppress the resistance of the overthrown class? What is the price of the question? What happens if everything goes wrong, goes out of control and goes wild? What and how to crush sabotage? Who will plant and shoot? And what will it give? Who will support? Who will betray? And if it doesn't go, what then? What should I do if it doesn't work out? And where are the weak links? What are the backup plans? Where are the backup resources? The "advisers" are silent about this. At least half of them are doctors and academics. They don't see such problems. They paint pictures one more beautifully than the other, NOT CARING about the price of the next great turning point. And the people, holding their breath with delight, fell asleep under the speeches of the smart and honest, but NOT ALLOWED by evil fate to the levers...

Or maybe you still need to think and remember our sayings, created over a long period of time through everyday experience – "Before you enter, think about how to get out." "It's better to take a step forward and two steps back than to jump forward – and there's an abyss." "If you hurry, you will not only make people laugh, but you will also ruin the country." And again: "If you drive more quietly, you will go further." That's why the president does NOT LISTEN to advisers. Not because he's angry or stupid. They just DON'T SAY what he needs. They don't help save the country. Destroy – a hundred options. And save – none. Now, if they not only gave advice, but also how best to implement it, it would be another matter. Then, maybe, they would have realized that the knowledge they need is NOT ENOUGH. Not the knowledge they boast<sup>3</sup> about, but knowledge created from information that is still perceived by their brain, to one degree or another. They DO NOT UNDERSTAND that the information is not provided in order for them to stock up on "stew and survive the apocalypse" and not for the feeling that everything will be great and bright for all of us. But only in order to MAKE PEOPLE think, create and help, help, by virtue of their knowledge and their knowledge of what is happening, which, unfortunately, is almost without use. But, in my opinion, let them advise. There is a benefit from them – they, in the end, will convince ALL DOUBTERS that it is time to change the old for the new. And perhaps then it will be concluded that it is not enough to say where to go, you still need to know how to get there...
