

Trap-22. How to pass between darkness and light?

2001 took away the first human rights and democratic freedoms, bringing the first crack in the previously existing world order based on behind-the-scenes oral agreements and personal guarantees between the authorities of the world. And since then, time after time, there have been regular attempts at global cancellation in the standard bundle — the Crisis+War+An epidemic. Many have already forgotten that after the terrorist attack of 9/11 in 2001, the dot-com financial bubble burst, and an epidemic of SARS came, then Avian Flu and the Iraq War, which caused a sharp rise in hydrocarbon prices. Then in 2008, the real estate bubble burst, causing a banking crisis, accompanied by the Georgian-Ossetian war, and the Swine Flu epidemic. In 2014, the Syrian War, the Ukrainian Maidan and the subsequent civil war in the ATO zone were accompanied by the Economic and Currency crisis in the Russian Federation, and the Ebola epidemic, with the accompanying criminalization of the fossil energy market into a gray regime, first of all Donbass coal, Syrian oil and Ukrainian gas transportation System. And finally, 2020, triumphantly completed the change of the world order with the pandemic of the virus, the Russian-Ukrainian SVO and, of course, epochal financial and energy crises, which the world has not yet seen. It is worth noting that each wave of destruction was preceded by a focus on the Olympic events, Salt Lake City, Beijing, Sochi, Beijing, with the immediate transfer of everyone's attention to the demonized aggressor.

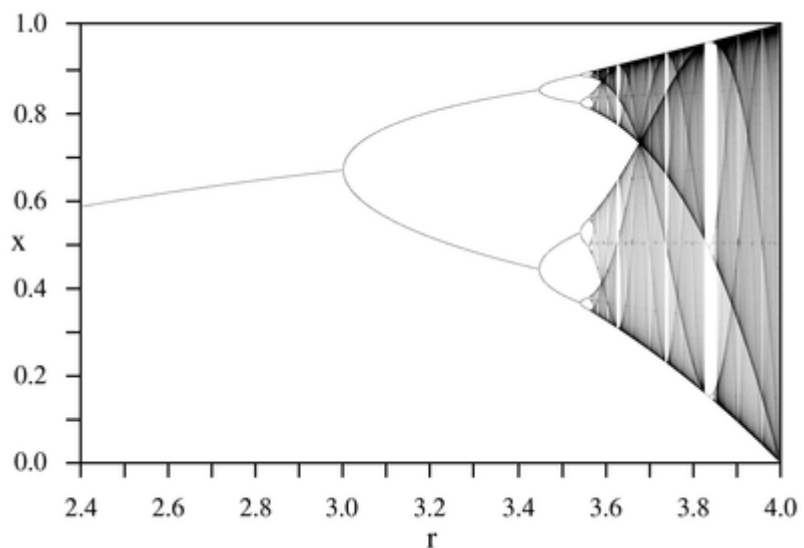

By the way, the USSR was awarded the Olympics only once in 1980 to attract everyone's attention to the theatrical act of the Afghan adventure of the KGB, the Anthrax epidemic, and the Russian Flu, immortalized in the works of Vladimir Vysotsky.

The Iran-Iraq war at that time inflated oil prices before an epochal fall a few years later. Which only confirms the presence of a single behind-the-scenes director pulling the strings of all political actors on stage at the appointed time. Stalin said that every problem has a specific name and surname, and today they are already known to many.

Perhaps future researchers of history, by uploading the entire chronology of the Olympic Games, epidemics, wars and crises into neural networks, pairing them with the calendar of celestial mechanics, with the help of artificial intelligence, will discover even more interesting patterns and anomalies of the development of civilization than can be seen with the naked eye. Continuing the direction of scientific research of Russian scientists Nikolai Morozov and Anatoly Fomenko.

Another social upheaval forces people to realize the objective reality, here and now, breaking the established stereotypes of thinking. For many, the treacherously stolen presidential elections in the United States, the Russian Federation and other countries were the turning point. Black swans multiply during the transition period, their goodness is in forcing people to accept the cruel truth about themselves and their place in the surrounding reality. However, not everyone is able to face the truth and give up further life in the old world.

Thanks to the adventurous actions of the conceptual performers of the interventional system, the event velocity of the passage of time has increased approximately fourfold, and it has become possible to avoid 40 years of waiting, but few people wonder why exactly 4 times? In mathematical chaos theory, there is a Feigenbaum constant equal to 4.669. This constant, among other things, characterizes the rate of increase of chaos in society. Each new iteration of chaos is "compressed" in time.

2. Fear and duality of thinking.

Every day, at an accelerating pace, the world's media bombard people's consciousness with propaganda of constantly deteriorating chaos. Their fear-based tactics try to manipulate our emotions by programming the behavior of the crowd to be completely predictable. Being in ignorance and fear inevitably leads to the search for a higher authority and the rejection of one's own mind. Fyodor Dostoevsky warned that the grand Inquisitor plans to rule through a miracle, mystery and authority.

The meaning of the constant intimidation of the world's population is in the forcible transfer of the individual thinking of each person into a collective super-organism peculiar to insects, and requiring a sinful authority — the queen of the swarm. The duality of egregious consciousness gives only two pills — a trembling creature or I have the right. Both are poisoned.

Waves of awareness are rolling over all of humanity, each time approaching the ninth wave on a scale capable of breaking any control system based on parasitism and violence. As succinctly formulated by one of the characters of Goodkind, Evil is life at the expense of the lives of others.

These waves of awareness replace one another, and each subsequent one is stronger than the previous one. For every wave, the ebb inevitably comes. At this moment, the landscape of the parasitic system is exposed, and billions of hamster wheels frozen in the moment, force people to focus their eyes on the vices of the system, and on themselves as part of the mechanism.

The inability to see the lies and injustice around you is a distinctive feature of people living in fear.

This is the fear of knowing the truth. Those who refuse to wake up and face the truth are met with shocks from the destruction of their structure of being and the foundations of the worldview. Their range of perception is very narrow and is not compatible with the primary matters of the Day of Svarog that saturate the planet excessively. They don't feel the need to question anything in the world while continuing to benefit from it. They gave their security to the state, their health to medicine, their spiritual well-being to religions, and their reason to sciences.

Many people want to know the truth, but only until they realize that it will take away their deepest ideas and beliefs. One drop of truth about evil muddies the mind, like a drop of pure water muddies a glass of absinthe. And it's easy to get drunk from it. Getting out of the comfort zone of narrow thinking turns life upside down. And for those who cling to dogmas, postulates, ideals, traditions and habits, this means a complete loss of orientation in life, leading to a near-death state of futurshock, fear of tomorrow. Suddenly, those who planned their lives for years ahead, and who had all the resources and opportunities for that, find themselves tied to the collapsing egregorial pyramids. For those who are ready, this is liberation, for others, the fear of the unknown is extremely frightening.

The authoritative biblical prophet Moses secretly saved a group of fugitives from the persecution of the old world, feeding them with the miracle of manna from heaven for 40 years. However, the promised integration into the promised land was granted to believers only in the second generation. According to cosmic laws, Moses had the full moral right to determine the fate of the refugees he saved from imminent death, but he did it on behalf of a higher power and with the collective approval of the wards. The old life was over for them, but the design of their brain was not able to adapt to the beginning of a new life.

Understanding is not increased by knowledge alone. Space megastrategies are a dead weight without the possibility of practical confirmation. It is always easier to believe in a ready-made untested theory than to rebuild your own foundation. People are stupid, their heads are full of different beliefs and concepts, but at the same time they are convinced of their ability to distinguish good from evil. The easier it is to deceive them.

Therefore, those who have reached a higher level of evolutionary development often have to manipulate the crowd for their own good. This is the first rule of Goodkind. The problem is the proportionality of the manipulator and its task, the ability to complete the triandzioahedral illusion in time before its dimension exceeds the scale of its thought.

The concept of the structure of the triune brain, in the 1960s, was formulated by Paul Donald McLean, MD. Stating that the brain is functionally divided into reptilian (instincts and reflexes), animal (feelings and emotions) and human (logic and reason). The difference between a human and an animal is manifested in the ability to put instincts and emotions under the control of the mind. However, Maclean's theory has nothing to do with this formula.

Мозг приматов (неокортекс) - Primate brain (neocortex)
Мозг млекопитающих (лимбическая система) - Mammalian brain (limbic system)
Рептильный мозг (ствол головного мозга) - Reptilian brain (brain stem)

Russian scientist Nikolai Levashov, for the first time described the process of formation of the human nervous system in the context of the theory of evolutionary development. In the process of embryonic development, a person goes through three clearly defined stages. The growing biomass, before the entry of the identical essence of man, consistently develops, the essence of fish, reptile, mammal. This is due to the modification of the embryo, and the formation of the ternary structure of the brain, which is functionally subdivided into the reptilian part (reticular formation), the animal part (limbic system) and the actual human part (neocortex). The essence of each species, temporarily in harmony with the biomass, develops the corresponding structure of the brain.

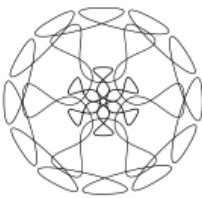

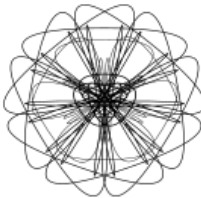

This explains the law named after Karl Von Baer, who discovered the similarity of embryogenesis of different species of terrestrial fauna. Of course, this was not a law, but only a consequence of the general law of the evolutionary development of living matter on our planet.

The human brain is considered by the immune system as an alien organ, therefore it needs to be protected by a hemato-encephalic barrier, due to the imputed role of the limbic and reticular systems, which were used by interventional control complexes in conjunction with solar activity, to switch mental activity into a controlled mode of hormonal and emotional manipulability. The mechanical and reactive behavior of the masses of people under hormonal stress is easily calculated by artificial intelligence algorithms, which in fact was the interventional control system of the Earth. In modern terms, a distributed neural network for processing data from life support objects. After its destruction, system executors strive to reproduce the principles of constituent violence on an accessible element base and in conditions of full visibility. Without realizing that the masks have been dropped, and everything that is being done is becoming obvious to more and more people every day.

By the way, the unattributed effect of a virus mutated under conditions of altered life support is to nullify the limbic system of the brains of those who have managed to live to their gray years with adolescent sensual perception of the surrounding reality. In the terms of Nikolai Levashov, those people who, in the course of evolutionary development, did not have time to move from the stage of an Intelligent Animal to the stage of a Human. Or those people who received crippling, psychological imprints at the level of the limbic system. Such traumas include early indoctrination of children by the state and the church, or even worse, experimental psychological programs of special services, and types of religious and ceremonial initiation (different versions of circumcision).

It is a violation of the limbic system that causes symptoms of a change in taste and loss of sense of smell. Imagine the level of depression that has rolled over a person who is used to living with sensations and emotions, suddenly finding himself in a vacuum. For some it is forever, for the lucky ones, after zeroing comes the reset of receptor communications. However, the system of life support has been granted a gift and a means of recovery — the medicine VVV-369.

Закон девятки в принципе работы
информационного полимера VVV-369

$\frac{\text{Corona}}{666}$	-	$\frac{VVV}{369}$	=	297

$9 - 9 = 9 \quad \text{A.P.}$

The law of nine in the principle of operation of the information polymer VVV-369

3. Special Medical Operation. Auto motor attenuation.

Unfortunately, knowing the truth does not equate with understanding. For 20 years, humanity has been informed about the goals and consequences of mass immunization therapy. However, the overwhelming majority made their choice in the opposite direction.

Refusing responsibility, they are even ready to betray their children to experimental gene therapy imposed by political cannibals. They are programmed to feel like insignificant beings in need of constant control.

Faced with the truth about the world of fake players and corrupt events, harm and intentions to control, we found that we lived in lies in almost all spheres of existence.

Two years ago, hardly anyone would have believed that soon millions of doctors and nurses around the world would consciously put their careers, incomes and diplomas above the importance of human life. These people are involved either in direct use, or in not speaking out against the introduction of experimental vaccines to people of all ages, despite the fact that they know about the huge potential for causing irreversible harm or death.

Many acted honestly and bravely, leaving their field, and they deserve praise and recognition. But for the rest, the statement that they didn't know won't work anymore. There is too much evidence for any medical professional not to know what is going on. All of them have access to official websites that clearly show the side effects of vaccines and reports of deaths. We have seen general practitioners waive exceptions that they knew were vital; without informing their patients of known side effects; and they actively encouraged the vaccination of patients, although they knew that from a medical point of view, patients are not able to cope with the chemical composition of the experimental vaccine.

Medical professionals working in hospitals have undoubtedly seen the results of vaccinations; the outcomes of connecting patients to a ventilator and deaths as a result of the administration of midazolam to the elderly. Even employees who are not directly involved in the actual delivery of the vaccine cannot claim ignorance.

Doctors, nurses, staff and paramedics talk to each other. They see what's going on. Staff in all departments witnessed additional deaths from many diseases that developed in vaccinated people. They observed a huge increase in the frequency of heart attacks and blood clotting, including in children and stillborn babies from vaccinated parents.

It cannot be that doctors and nurses do not know about the massive increase in mortality and long-term terrible injuries received as a result of a medical experiment on all mankind. They also knew that there was no pandemic, and their hospitals were not full until the vaccinated began to arrive.

And there is not a single doctor who does not know the complex action of harmful chemicals, i.e., the more injections, the higher the probability of serious consequences, and yet they continued to insist on 2nd and 3rd doses and boosters.

Doctors and hospital administrators are also well aware of the price benefits and additional payment if the virus is indicated on the death certificate. Millions of doctors named the virus as the cause of death, even though they knew that the patient died from completely unrelated causes.

Insensitive victims are waiting in line for the vaccination, despite numerous warnings from informed sources about its danger and true intention. In a sense, they have become mentally ill because of the ruthless propaganda of brainwashing by the media. You can't start something new with these fellows.

A new world cannot be built with the help of zombies. The crowd will sober up only when their own children die from poisonous injections, or on another military adventure, or when there is nothing to eat.

A massive reduction of the planet's population is coming, guests are counted, entities alien to the planet suddenly leave our world, immature ones remain in the old matrix, for the automotor completion of their stay in the illusion of feelings and duality of the past.

All the old vices, karmic injuries, egregious grievances and pride come to light. It's time to forgive and let go of these anchors, because the cosmic tide is rapidly increasing in level. Forgiveness contains the magic of healing, for the forgiven, but even more so for the giver of forgiveness.

Everything we knew before turned out to be a game of dice. Everything we were proud of turned out to be an illusionist's deception. Everyone is now making an independent choice of their own reality. Continue to use the old social and commercial services, try to get income from the usual work, enjoy traditional entertainment, or resolutely reject the old experience, step into the unknown. The moment of a new beginning is rapidly approaching.

People who find themselves in different realities will continue to exist in parallel at the moment of transition, but will never find mutual understanding due to the fact that those who have passed through the quantum unknown are transformed qualitatively.

4. The trick of Duality. Who is to blame and what to do?

In the conditions of the phase crisis that has engulfed the civilization of constituent violence, traditional methods of conducting politics cease to work. Finding a diplomatic compromise between the parties to the conflict is more unrealistic, and sometimes any of the alternatives are no less harmful than the compromise itself. All the backstage guarantors have gone into oblivion, or have lost their former influence. Such were Queen Elizabeth II, Mikhail Gorbachev, Henry Kissinger, Pope Francis and some non-public characters of the black Vatican aristocracy. The persons who replace them have neither authority, nor connections, nor a power advantage, due to the growing feudal fragmentation.

Bertrand Russell wrote that Zeno's aporias "in one form or another affect the foundations of almost all the theories of space, time and infinity proposed from his time to the present day." In the last hundred years, mathematicians have begun to see them as anticipating the paradoxes of modern set theory". Zeno's aporias can be understood as contradictions of dual logic when cognizing the phenomena of continuous logic. In the limit of dual consideration, their meaning boils down to a "catch-22".

Along with the "sacred doublethink" presented by George Orwell in the novel "1984," the expression "catch-22" has become one of the most famous ways to demonstrate how difficult it is to get out of the logical trap formed by mutually exclusive rules. 22 is the same unknown unknown, that Donald Rumsfeld warned about. Which in practice means two alternatives to choose, despite the fact that both are worse. It is into this trap that Neo falls, looking for a way out of the matrix, both red and blue pills are just variants of illusions. By choosing the red awakening pill, you think you will find out the truth. However, there are always nested layers of manipulation and psychological tricks designed to manipulate our beliefs.

And this is inevitable when we dream of outplaying a cheater with his own deck of marked cards.

No conflict can be resolved at the conflict level. To resolve contradictions that are in internal unity and interpenetration, engineers have a theory and an algorithm for solving inventive tasks (TRIZ) that can overcome the "catch-22". However, the parasitic system has always prevented its mass introduction into the educational process. Therefore, engineers of human souls are more often forced to use common sense and conscience.

Another manifestation of Trap-22 is the dialogue between Krishna and Arjuna in the epic Mahabharata. Arjuna's thoughts are torn in indecision between pacifism and the murder of a fraternal people. Krishna, as the highest spiritual authority, forces the knight to shed the blood of his brothers. Which is just as unwise as refusing to fight. There is no such problem, the solution of which would justify fratricide. Any conflict can be resolved by raising the level of reasonableness. Did the all-good deity have no idea of the great power of the enlightened Mind? The rigid determinism of dual logic is not able to see the third option. Many generations of people, reading into this religious epic, distorted their personality, choosing one of two evils, at that moment as a Reasonable answer was always on the surface.

Choosing the lesser of two evils is a sign of a worshipful state of consciousness. The only choice of a Reasonable Person is going beyond the algorithmically calculated options. In fact, the adoption of each of the two proposed solutions is always a person's rejection of reason and responsibility. Any ideology, and previously religion, exempted adherents from responsibility for any crimes committed in the name of an ideal or idol. All religious wars have always been fought under the flag of God. If God is with us, then who is against us? Gott mit uns was written on the belt buckles of Reich soldiers. In the atheistic USSR, they went to die in the name of the Kremlin father of peoples.

The peoples were united into state or religious collective supra-organizations, controlled by the priests of religion, later by politics, and at the moment by the authorities of science. The human brain, occupying only 3% of body mass, consumes up to 25% of its energy, always striving to switch to energy saving mode. Encouraging each refusal to make an independent decision with a dose of endorphins. The phenomenon of cave patriotism and official heroism is based on this mechanism of drug addiction.

And that's why the once most powerful drug developed by the Bayer concern (Bavarian) was named that way. In state superorganisms, members of the pyramid are depersonalized by adopting uniform thinking, and heroism is understood as self-sacrifice for the benefit of the state. For the state is revered by them as a deity standing higher than their own family, or human life. Priests have always been formed from copies of the leading genotype.

Over time, the priests became political workers. When the commander runs out of ideas on how to get out of some completely rubber z ..., the task of a political worker is to inspire and strengthen. There are no arguments in the arsenal of a political worker, his style is emotions and intonation. Their favorite topics are about patriotism, heroism and cunning plans hidden from the layman (but thoroughly known to these commissars). The enemies of the Third Reich were mercilessly branded by Julius Streicher, himself being a representative of the leading genotype.

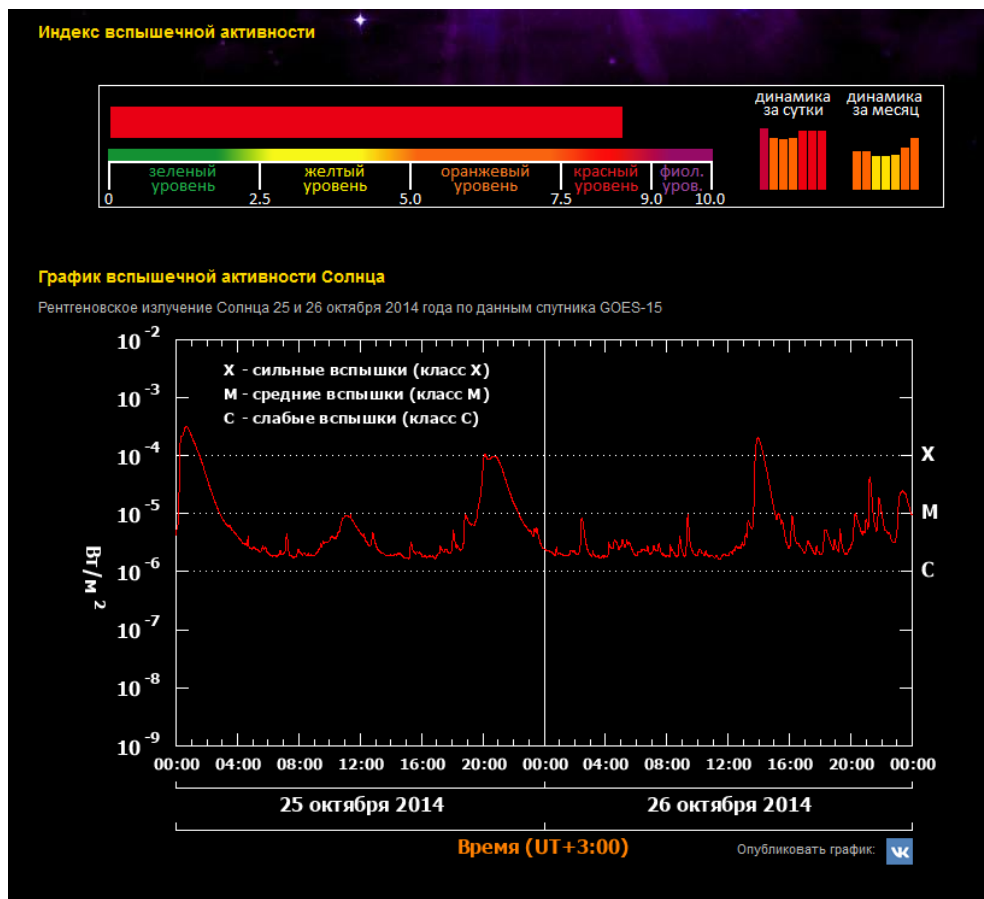

If we take the example of Vladimir Solovyov, in fact, he is the great-nephew of Yakov Blumkin, the famous spy and terrorist who led the Tibetan expedition of Nicholas Roerich by the nose, and became famous for the murder of diplomat Mirbach. Solovyov's mother, Inna Bazilevskaya, is the daughter of Nathan Blumkin, the brother of Yakov Blumkin.

Владимир СОЛОВЬЕВ/Vladimir SOLOVYOV
Мы — русские!/We are Russians!
С НАМИ БОГ!/GOD IS WITH US!
Попытка эмоционального анализа/An attempt at emotional analysis

Of course, all these blood issues are pathologically sick and carefully hidden for the assignments of the once leading genotype. That's why Wikipedia contains outright misinformation. Venerable literary and theater critic, Inna Natanovna Solovyova (dev. Basilevskaya) told about her son Vladimir Solovyov in the program "Cultural Exchange" on OTR from 09.09.2016. Patriotism is not an ideology, it is an emasculated sublimation of ideology, which gives the same narcotic effect, but does not carry any internal content.

Similarly, the 12 apostles and the Fuhrer himself carefully concealed their belonging to the leading brain genotype. What the Russian Foreign Minister publicly spoke about in the summer of 2022. And before him, this topic was revealed by the knight of the Iron Cross (the equivalent of the hero of the Soviet Union), Lieutenant Colonel Henneke Kardel. In 1974, the first 10,000 copies of his book were sunk in Hamburg Harbor.

x-ray index

green level – yellow level – orange level – red level – purple level – daily changes – monthly changes

Diagram of the solar flare activity

x-ray emissions of the Sun on 25 & 26 October satellite data GOES-15

X – large flare (class X) – M – moderate flare (class M) – C – minor flare (class C)

25 October 2014 – 26 October 2014

Time (UT + 3:00)

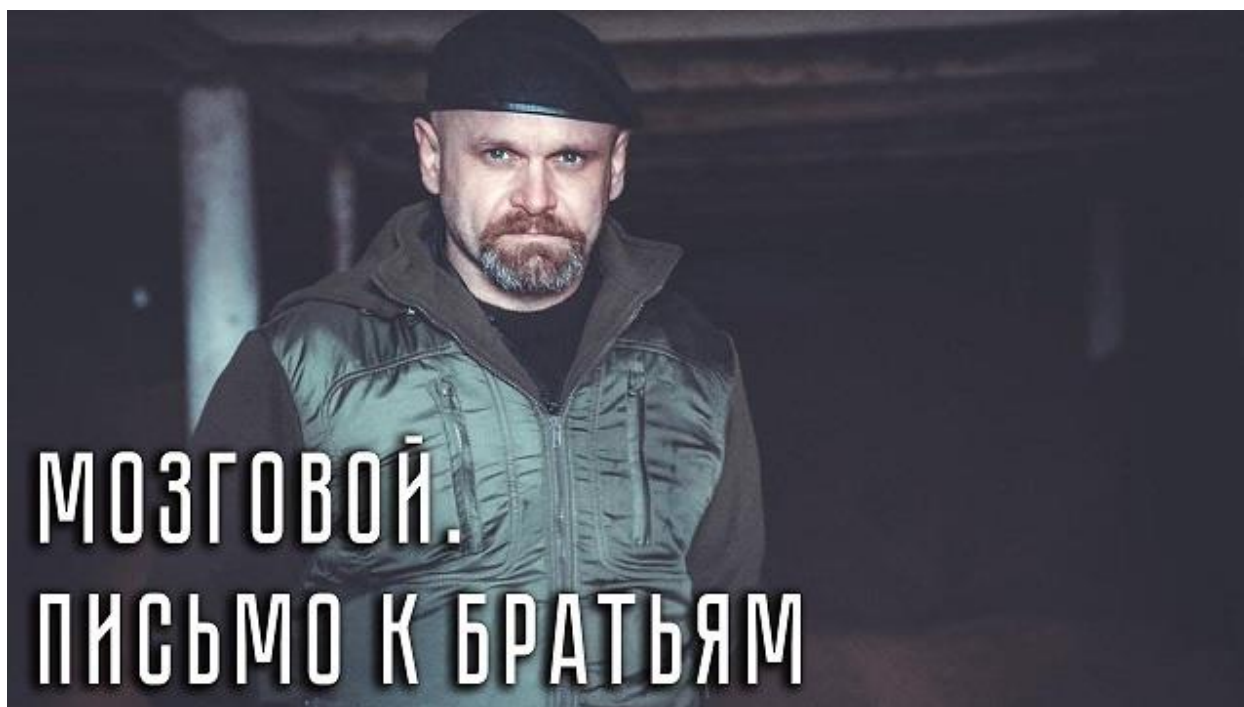

All social upheavals occur as a result of the reception of solar radiation pulses by planetary control complexes. The pattern of coincidence of maxima solar activity and social upheavals was discovered by Alexander Chizhevsky. Each such event acts like a planetary wave, manifesting emotional attachments, mental illusions and a crisis of people's identity. In the crucible of experiences and emotional lamentations, the cheap mechanism of self-healing of the 4th DNA codon is given the opportunity to evaporate the imputed mantissas of the brain genotype and dissolve inadequate realities, the neural structures of the brain. Alexander Khatybov called it a bathing process. The subsequent redistribution of the albedo potentials of the human brain and the planet is balanced by metered volcanic eruptions, earthquakes and other natural disasters. Therefore, solar flares activate social changes through the influence on individual physical, emotional and psychological states of people.

As mentioned above, the vigorous activity of the brain's neocortex consumes too much energy, and apparently carries a high carbon footprint. Therefore, according to the new environmental agenda of the world's elites, the brain should be switched to a low-energy mode, that is, under hormonal and emotional control of the limbic system. Inherited from reptiles, the reticular formation encourages energy-saving, sleeping of the neocortex with the production of endogenous drugs. It is due to this mechanism that it is much easier for most people to bury reality than to give up romantic illusions about their own infallibility, about the good king, about the all-good God, etc., etc. And even the worthiest people of the Nation often fall into the trap-22, idealizing their Nation, putting it above others, if God is with us, then who is against us? Unfortunately, both fraternal peoples, Ukrainian and Russian, fell into it as part of the promotion of national superorganisms to the state of the beginning of an evolutionary bias, the moment of the war of Antlani with Great Tartary. Only after reaching this point is the harmonious development and interpenetration of cultures possible.

A real Person, in addition to independent and free thinking, is able to empathize, and through empathy to gain understanding. Thus, developing new qualities of the essence. The contradiction is overcome by finding common qualities with subsequent Alignment into a new higher-order structure. Perhaps this is Happiness, Co-participation.

Revered throughout the world, St. George the Victorious, having earned a high military rank in the Roman Empire, overcame the trap-22, refusing to fulfill the criminal order of Emperor Diocletian, who declared part of the empire's population, followers of the Savior, enemies.

Those of us who have experienced the Russian Spring with our hearts and souls remember the testament of the Brigade Commander Mozgovoy, where the Russian Knight overcame the trap 22 - "My people are not Ukrainian, and not Russian. My People Are One!" And really, what is the difference between Kharkiv and Rostov residents? Why do some people have to prove that they are not Nazis and others are not fascists? Trap-22, draws both of them.

CEREBRAL.
LETTER TO THE BROTHERS

We are Rus, not Russians. When asked who the person is, the correct answer is Rus, and his language is Russian. And then everything falls into place. Some may say that it is as much on the forehead as it is on the forehead. Is it worth making a big deal out of it? It is worth it... And for several reasons.

First, to discover your genetic memory. I suggest that any genetically Russian person pronounce the word "I am Rus" and listen to himself. Maybe not the first time, but a genetically Russian person will feel an internal vibration, and when pronouncing the word, I am Russian, there will be no vibration, there will be only emptiness in the sensations. Each word creates a certain qualitative resonance with the body and essence of the speaker. One word can awaken sleeping genetics, another, even very close, but having a completely different purpose, will leave these genetics to "sleep" further.

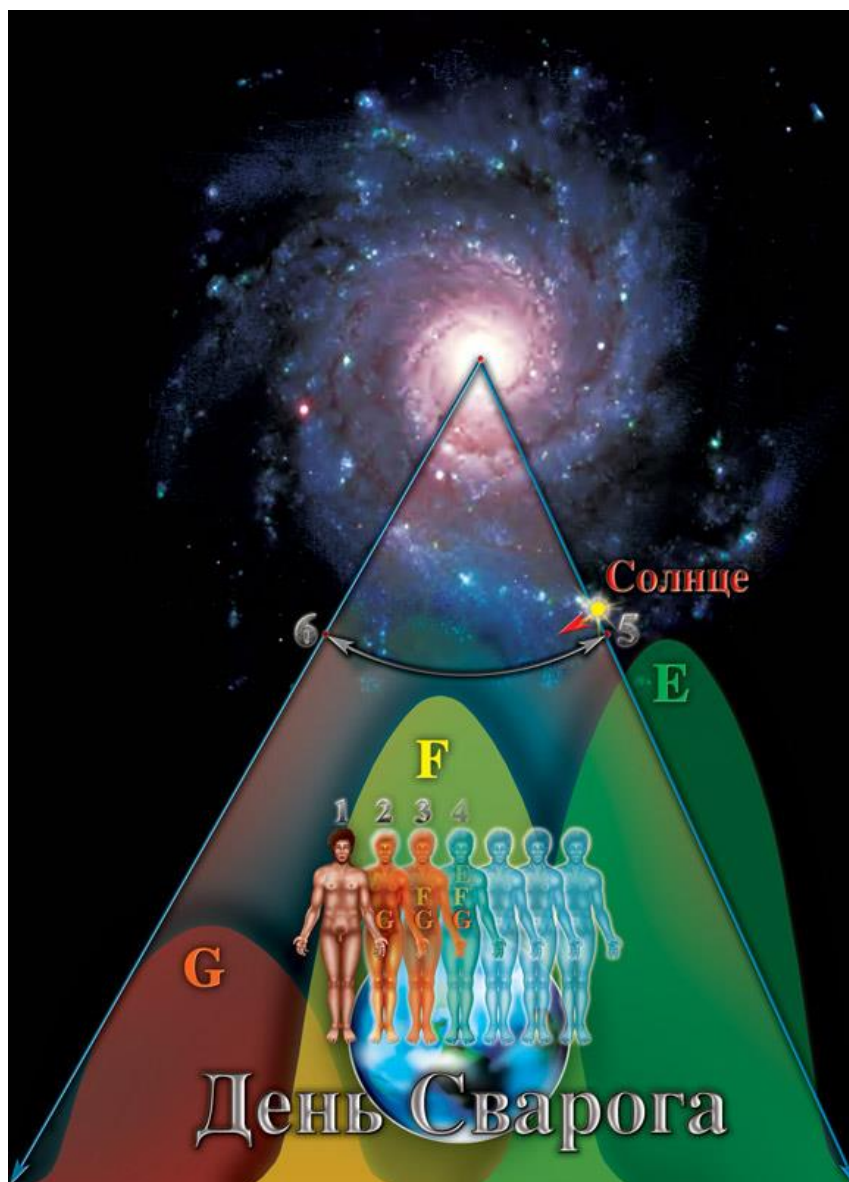

Freedom is not brought by vibration, but by a variety of people who stand together and declare their united will. A new sense of unity forms a new humanity, simultaneously experiencing the same trials. The first sign of this movement was the Canadian Freedom Convoy, which unexpectedly united Ukrainians, Russians and the whole world in a noble manifesto of free will and independence from imposed procedures. Thus, at the moment of the quantum transition, the historical egregious division and polarization of humanity is overcome.

The worst is over. It's time to make the next choice, whether the truth should remain a good idea for discussion, or whether it's time to integrate it into life, making it a step in the long ladder of knowledge.

5. The Awakening of the Saviors.

According to Levashov, in the conditions of the coming Day of Svarog, primary matter E begins to dominate in the areas of heterogeneity of our Universe, and optimal conditions arise for the development of a person's complete third and fourth material bodies, which is manifested in the development of high spiritual and moral qualities, consciousness and conscience. It was during the Days of Svarog that evolutionary leaps of development were observed on the planet-Earths; this is especially clearly seen at the initial stages of the development of civilizations, during their "childhood" period. The universe itself "opens" evolutionary windows during the Days of Svarog, allowing the developing living matter to reach the level of intelligence (to have reason in itself, to achieve enlightenment of the mind).

The Sun
Day of Svarog

Our planet, entering this area of excessive saturation with the light of Svarog, rebuilds the entire program of life for this process, tectonics, climate, biota, our essences and physical bodies are transformed, everything goes naturally feeding on the excess primary matters of the Day of Svarog. The passage of time accelerates at the moment of convergence and subsequent divergence of the two branches of the chronoprocess. The new reality, manifesting itself, will gather qualitatively identical essences. The rest are waiting for the automotor completion of the old reality, built on the excessive saturation of the primary matters of the Night of Svarog.

The collective frequency of perception increases with an increase in the ability to accept the truth (Brain Albedo). When the structures of the organism perceive the new structures of primary matter, they automatically dissolve the neural structures of old matter. Higher frequencies of life accompaniment lead the physical body to a worse tolerance of some foods and beverages, GMOs and fakes poisoned with pesticides, herbicides, they can no longer be absorbed by the body, causing digestive problems.

Our essence, personality and organism are changing qualitatively before our eyes, we are no longer able to endure being in a crowd, lies, violence, etc. Visiting old places no longer brings pleasure, old entertainment becomes uninteresting. Habitual food causes digestive problems even in small doses. Once favorite drinks no longer cause feelings of satiety, or exceed their threshold. Classic pills do not have the former effect. Alcohol does not cause any cravings. It no longer requires so much food and sleep to feel comfortable. Rather, on the contrary, an overabundance of them causes discomfort.

The percentage of enlightened people is growing like a snowball, and many realize that now is not the time to pop out under the axe of repression of the agonizing system. In the period of transition, one has to live in two realities, putting on the herd masquerade of the system, dependent on the material income in the old matrix. And only at home, and for some only in nature, to take off the hated fake. This temporary condition, will inevitably be overcome.

It's time to let go of the past, take responsibility for your own life and live it the way each of the self-aware wants to live it. This new world will gain strength from within, and move on to the joy of self-expression.

We know at least one successful example of a real Man who went through the crucible of such a quantum transition, who managed to overcome a serious illness, and to change qualitatively. This is the story of N.A. Morozov, an honorary academician of the USSR Academy of Sciences, who began his evolution as a terrorist-nationalist. He did not have the Light broom of Nikolai Levashov, in the bathhouse process of Alexandre Khatybov. He went through his black bath in the solitary cell of the Shlisselburg prison thanks to a large labor shovel of knowledge.

P.S.

The time has passed when it was possible to massively influence people's choices. Now it is impossible to do this and it is impossible to violate free will. Those who are destined to make the right choice at the last minute will themselves seek contact with the saviors. You can give suggestive information in blog comments, communicate with people one-on-one. There is no need to chase the mass. At the moment, the task of those who have chosen the path to an unknown future is to preserve and prepare themselves mentally and physically for the future creative work.

Rekhtin A.
2022.09.18