

1.19. Climate Weapons - Truth or Bluff?

Author: Bittner E.A.

It is not often that you have to face really interesting questions and look for an answer to them. Therefore, I am grateful to my friends (students of the Moscow seminar on the development of New Knowledge) for having sufficient technical knowledge, they were able to ask well-thought-out, well-formulated, complete and correct questions, which made it very easy for me to prepare this answer.

These are the questions:

Pavel Mykhaykh:

Good afternoon, Elena.

I did not start a discussion with you at the seminar about climate weapons, because I did not see the expediency, however, I want to report (because you continued to prove it in the last Skype conference) that you are wrong and do not interpret the concept of weapons correctly. The fact is that this concept refers to the means of destroying any object or entity, to one degree or another of controllability.

Climatic weapons created a certain breakdown in the structure (grid) of the atmosphere as a result of a satellite's exposure to powerful monochromatic coherent radiation or, more simply, a laser of certain frequencies. The pumping of the satellite took place from a station in Alaska. Nikolai Viktorovich described the essence of the weapon in detail and emphasized this term for a reason.

Roman Slepushkin:

Good evening, Elena! I read B. V. Makov's answer to the 25th of October. At the end of his article there were references to an interview with N. V. Levashov on the events of summer 2010. Again I got an unclear question about climate weapons. At the seminar you replied to my question that it did not occur (answer by B. V. Makov). Also on the article by A. M. Khatybov:

Control System automatons have a scale of lower and upper potential limits, which is what they maintain. This scale has 12 "speeds". So, since 21 June, the lower limit of temperature = 72.50, with an increase in temperature relative to the lower limit of +248. This rate holds until 15 August. But in 2010, the 83.00, and records began. But this temperature is the average for more than 12400 frequencies (hospital average temperature). There are 101.3, then by the frequencies associated with materialization, we have $t_0 > 550$.

In addition, the lower limit of brain temperature is raised. When the value of 92.3 is reached, there can be a heart attack if the Control System automatons add 9 to 100.

All changes affecting humans go in frequency structures of 16 to 128 octaves, and no human technical achievement is able to reproduce what is happening now. Tesla's experiments are up to 50 octaves, the complex in Alaska has nothing to do with what is happening, and the reference to Obama is unfounded.

As of 19 August, the next lower temperature limit for the European part of Russia = 92.3. Add 120 and you get new records. Everything above the objects (located at a depth of -2200 to -4400 meters) will burn.

What will happen in Europe, Asia, America, Africa, Australia, Antarctica is the topic of the next reviews as reports come up from the respected structures.

Why is there such a contradiction?

To clarify the apparent contradiction, I decided to conduct a comparative analysis of the work of A. M. Khatybov "Fundamentals of Life Support Systems" and the article of N. V. Levashov "Anti-Russian Anticyclone".

N. Levashov:

"As I have already reported, on 20 and 22 July, climate and geophysical weapons were destroyed. This fact was recorded by magnetotrons. Recorders that record changes in the Earth's magnetic field when these weapons were destroyed recorded bursts several times higher than the usual norm. These bursts lasted for about 40 minutes, and then everything returned to normal. When climate weapons were destroyed, there were spikes up, and when geophysical weapons were destroyed, there were spikes down. The amplitude went down more than three times, compared to the usual phenomenon. At the same time, there was no increased activity in the sun at this time. All this data is available.

I just don't want to tell you more specific things, because there are certain rules for working with this kind of information. And also for the safety reasons of those specialists who conduct such research. In addition, there is a lot of other information that many people do not know about."

My comment:

It is no coincidence that the date of destruction of these weapons is indicated: 20 and 22 July. Therefore, in honor of this significant day, this summer we completed the 1st Contest of articles dedicated to the Honor of N. V. Levashov and distributed the awards^[1].

Why does N. Levashov share the manifested effect of thermal influence on the climatic and geophysical? Because only in the aggregate could it act on such a scale. The destruction of this impact was carried out in two directions of changing the dimensionality of the atmosphere, opposite to the direction of the impact.

Therefore, the "climatic" effect was neutralized by creating a difference in the dimensionality in the direction – up, and the "geophysical" – down. This was tracked by magnetotron sensors.

In addition, in this paragraph, Nikolai Viktorovich draws our attention to the fact that for certain reasons, he does not want to report specific things, since THERE ARE RULES FOR WORKING WITH INFORMATION of this kind! At the same time, he added that this is also caused by ensuring the safety of THOSE SPECIALISTS who conduct such research. These words of Levashov explain a lot about information and about keeping secret the names and surnames of people with whom he had to work on the destruction of the EBROV Management System. In the later part of this analytical article, YOU will have the opportunity to determine who Nikolai Levashov had in mind.

N. Levashov:

"But someone really wants what happened this summer to be taken for natural phenomena. After the climatic and geophysical weapons were destroyed, the X-37B drone suddenly disappeared from its orbit! Do you know about this?"

The transfer of this drone to another orbit did not change anything. On 18 or 19 August, when it became known for sure that the weapons were destroyed, Major General of the People's Liberation Army of China Zhou Cheenheo gave a briefing to journalists about the flight of the X-37B. China, as you know, after the United States has the most modern control service for space objects. China has accused the US of creating artificial earthquakes and heavy rains on its territory, which caused massive disasters. In particular, the press conference mentioned the Pentagon's secret military program "Weather as a force multiplier".

My comment:

The space parasites (the hosts of the Fifth Column they created) simply provided the conditions that favored the fact that with the help of improvised technical means, such as the HAARP frequency supercharger, guiding satellites, the laser mounted on the X-37B drone, arsonists and poisoners could achieve their goal. That is, both space and earth parasites worked in symbiosis to achieve their goals – the destruction of people in order to occupy the liberated territories. Weather conditions were created with the help of the Ebrov system, being a MULTIPLIER of the FORCE that was in service with the United States.

A. M. Khatybov describes this set of tools that contribute to the achievement of the goals of the "Golden Billion":

"Automatic control systems have a scale of lower and upper limits of potentials, which they support. This scale has 12 "speeds". So, since 21 June, the lower limit of temperature = 72.5, while the temperature increase relative to the lower limit is +120.

This norm is kept until 15 August. But in 2010, the 83.3, and records began. However, this temperature is the average for more than 12400 frequencies (the average temperature for the hospital). There are dependencies on the main frequencies – if the average temperature has reached the value of 101.3, then we have $t_0 > 550$ for the frequencies associated with materialization. 92.3, there may be a heart attack if the Control System automaton adds 9-100.

All changes affecting humans go in frequency structures of 16 to 128 octaves, and no human technical advancement is capable of reproducing what is happening now. Tesla's experiments are up to 50 octaves, the complex in Alaska has nothing to do with what is happening, and the reference to Obama is unfounded.

As of August 19, the next lower temperature limit for the European part of Russia = 92.3. Add 120 and you get new records. Everything above the objects (located at a depth of -2200 to -4400 meters) will burn.

What will happen in Europe, Asia, America, Africa, Australia, Antarctica, the subject of the next reviews as reports come up from respected structures.

My comment:

Here I remember the "frying pan", which creates conditions for a long "sitting" of the anticyclone on a specific territory, which was mentioned by N. V. Levashov:

"...the earth was warmed up from the inside so that lakes and rivers went underground overnight through cracks in the bottom. This has never happened before. ...In Samara, by the middle of July, all the small rivers were almost dry. In large rivers, half of the water is left. Kayakers who annually swim on their favorite routes reported that the Kinel River has shrunk by half. Where the reservoirs have dried up, there is a terrible smell due to the fact that the river fauna is rotting, left lying without water. In a matter of minutes, as in a funnel, the whole lake was sucked into the ground in front of many eyewitnesses.

The locals talked about it all the time, but they reported these facts only once on local TV and radio. The heat was incredible. The temperature was lowered to 38-39 degrees, in fact it was from 113 in the shade, to 158 on the ground and in the sun - no one knows how much, because the thermometers simply failed. The animals died, the grass burned. (It is very strange that the trees were burned, dried and turned yellow from below by some kind of hearths, and at the top the greenery remained).

That is, the heating of the soil came from below. This is the creation of the so-called HELL zone (in this case, HELL for the residents of the Samara region), about which A. M. Khatybov wrote:

A. Khatybov:

"...a frying pan is created, bordered by the lower layer of the atmosphere and a fence - a ring of pyramids at the nodes of the Hartmann zones. The initial formation is a "drop", externally observed as a rainbow. ...For the formation of the desired potential densities in a given region (in the range of life support frequencies or for conducting experiments). The life support system does not process the potentials selected from Space, and according to a given Program, this processing is performed over a given territory, while the ion sediment merges in the form of rain, and a "drop" is formed from the high-frequency components, a section of which is visible to the naked eye after the removal of the ion protection. The size of the pan does not exceed several tens of kilometers, but the results are used to correct the program.... The concept of Hell is a frying pan for conducting experiments. Two large frying pans are the coast of the Crimea and Sochi, in addition - the Rostov and Krasnodar regions. As a rule, experiments are performed at maximum loads (summer) and no more than 12 days with a break of 6 days. There are quite a lot of people who want to take part in the experiments during this period..."

My comment:

If such a high-frequency "drop" is pumped additionally from space, creating ion lenses, then it is possible to create a zone of complete calm and high temperature at an accelerated rate, from where the anticyclone will not be able to escape, which was carried out with the help of joint efforts of HAARP, re-emitter satellites and the services of a parasitic Control System. It remains only to find those who will set fire to forests and fields in the right area and distribute "empty" fire extinguishers (poison gas cylinders) in the apartments of pensioners as "humanitarian aid" in Moscow. Such "specialists" are available - they are representatives of the 4XX genotype of the brain - created by the ebras of the Fifth Column. For the control "shot", an X-37B drone was used to set fire to where it does not ignite well.

*If we recall the recent words of B. V. Makov in the answers to the questions of the participants of the Moscow seminar about the fact that there are no climate weapons anymore, everything falls into place. Now any attempts to create the necessary frequencies are blocked by the native CPS, and the old Control System was disabled in December 2012 (see Change of System Power). In addition, no technology can create a climate weapon without providing the Control System with the necessary temperature (read - frequency) conditions. It's like a pistol without a clip – it seems to be a weapon, but it is only suitable as a heavy object. Speaking about weapons (any technical system), we should not forget that it can only be spoken about when it is controlled by those who use it (the law of completeness of parts of the system has not yet been canceled). When the weapon becomes unmanageable, it can also hurt the person who decided to use it. Therefore, this is NOT a WEAPON, but an UNMANAGEABLE process!!!

We can also compare these words with those of N. Levashov: "...they do not know how to create rains for themselves, except to disperse aerosols over air masses filled with moisture. In order to cause rains it is necessary for air masses from the ocean to come and bring moisture with them. And if you don't have that moisture, then you don't call the rains, they won't come. They don't know how to control the air currents over the oceans.

They can cause hurricanes, and they have done it many times, including over their own territory, as experiments. They don't care about their population either. But it is one thing to cause hurricanes, and another thing to stop them and control them.

Further, in his article "The Anti-Russian Anticyclone," Nikolai Viktorovich noted:

"Unfortunately, many people do not yet understand what is really going on. Or they don't want to understand. But the fact that they do not know about something does not mean that these terrible things do not happen. Some people have to see things for themselves to understand, and that doesn't always happen, or it happens when it's too late! Now, if there were a few million dead bodies after 5 August that would probably be good evidence. I guess we should have done nothing and let it all happen, and that would probably be all that would be understood then!

- Grim humor. This argument could go on indefinitely, unfortunately.
- The evidence, aka facts, is that the ozone layer over the Eastern European Plain has decreased by 43%. In 2003 a large ion hole was formed over Europe, a fact which has been reported in the press. It is a fact that the high-altitude jet atmospheric layers have stopped, and this has been established by British and French scientists. This has never been observed before. But there are provocateurs and people who are just shallow. What other data do they want to know? Do they really think that someone was going to tell them their plans in advance? Ridiculous. I drew conclusions as a result of what was going on, summarized data and facts.

First. As soon as the climate and geophysical weapons were destroyed, everything stopped right away, didn't it? Before that, the anticyclone for some reason stood still, and then began to move immediately.

Second. It was on 20-22 July, when this weapon was destroyed, that the instruments registered powerful magnetic radiation, which was the result of the work carried out.

Third. On 24 July, I announced the destruction of these weapons at a meeting with readers, and said that the anticyclone will start moving, although it was not moving yet, but the rains have already started in some places, and before that there was not a single rain for a month and a half!

Fourth. A cyclone from the North brought moisture and cold weather to Moscow. What other evidence is needed? And for provocateurs, representatives of the Fifth Column in Russia, it is very important to mislead people, and, sorry, to muddle their brains by any means, but they can not say anything intelligible, supported by arguments and data, except for malicious and boorish attacks on those who openly tell the truth.... If people knew what really happened and is happening on Earth over the past 20,000 years, they would change many of the absurd dogmas that have been hammered into their heads, and they don't even know why..."

My comment:

So what was the weapon that was destroyed? After all, satellites did not fall from the sky and the HAARP installation did not ignite with blue flame, but the heating process was stopped! Simply in this situation there was a disconnection of the "fighting parts" of the weapon, that is, Nikolay Levashov "took the clip out of the gun".

At present any attempts of social parasites, left without the support of the Ebrov Control System, cannot be carried out in any actions that can in any way change the conditions under which it is possible to project frequencies of destruction or control on objects (be it a territory, a crowd or an individual), because all these actions are opposed by the CPS Earth Control System, both in the areas of the CPS support and in local areas of "excited space" through Complexes of "SvetL Programs". In the last two years not a single satellite that was packed with the appropriate equipment has taken off. HAARP is "depersonalized", and no attempts to restore it will succeed - the program immediately blocks everything that can lead to destruction.
